Full Agreement On Five Treaties Is Believed Near

Council Of Foreign Ministers Steadily Narrowing Down Open Questions

MOLOTOV APPEARS MORE CONCILIATORY

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes disclosed today that the big four council of foreign ministers hopes to conclude negotiations on treaties with the five foreign European axis satellites within the next few days and begin talks on a treaty with Germany.

Byrnes said that the United States also will ask that the question of a treaty with Austria also be taken up.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The council of foreign ministers meets again at 4 p. m. at the Waldorf today to narrow the gap on full agreement on the five satellite treaties.

The final goal came appreciably nearer with reduction of the open questions to eleven, four of which appear to be nearly settled.

The Big Four removed its worst obstacles to complete understanding by finding common ground for agreement on the major issues of reparations, the Bulgarian frontier and demilitarization clause, the use of motor torpedo boats, and the Austro-Italian pact over the south Tyrol.

Progress Is Made
A large measure of progress was made possible by the far-reaching attitude of conciliation maintained in the past days, and particularly last night, by Soviet Foreign Secretary Molotov. This was so pronounced that at one point, the Russian half jokingly said to the council: "It seems now that the Soviet tendency is to give in all along the line."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New noted a converted jeep moving along the streets of the city this morning, which carried a snow plow at the front of the machine.

Despite the danger of crashing into the iron post and fence at the base, children sledged or skated Monday down the court house knoll to Washington street sidewalk.

Harry Donley of R. D. 1, Gardner St., reports he got a nine-point buck deer in Warren county at 8:30 Monday morning weighing 160 pounds. Harry is a veteran of World War II.

One carload of hunters evidently had an early start from the deer country returning with their kill. The car carrying two bucks was seen traversing the city streets at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Among those who shot a buck yesterday was Eddie Fritz Jr., who got a four-pointer in the vicinity of Russell City. For a buck having only four points it was big. He was in the woods only 10 minutes when he saw the buck and shot it.

Numerous pre-school age children were receiving their first sled ride on Monday afternoon, Pa New noted. The little tots who were bundled up very tightly, were being pulled along the slippery streets by their mothers.

Downowners were surprised at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon to find the street lights in the downtown area brightly lit. Evidently the lighting system was being tested.

Some of the city buses are sporting brand new heaters, much to the delight of the passengers who many (Continued on Page Two)

Wyatt Seeks Housing Action By President

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt scheduled another pilgrimage to the White House today in quest of presidential approval for a bold federal housing program.

Today's meeting, which was requested by Wyatt, is another in his long series of attempts to get the President to make a definite policy statement on housing.

Wyatt wants a housing program made up of strong federal controls on materials and construction and various forms of financial aid.

He believed that unless he gets those things, his goal of two million

Urges Acceptance Of Russian Proposals

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Sen. Johnson (D) Col., outspoken foe of Communism, today urged acceptance of the Soviet disarmament and world inspection proposal.

Johnson declared that the threat of subsequent veto "is a bridge to be crossed when we get to it."

The Colorado Democrat, influential on the Senate Military Affairs committee and the joint Congressional Atomic committee, urged that fear of the veto power in the United Nations council be brushed aside in the interests of world disarmament.

Johnson said that even if world disarmament and world inspection, once established, were set aside later (Continued on Page Two)

Six Injured In Auto Crash

Two Cars Collide On Hill Near Rose Point On Monday Afternoon

Six persons were injured in a collision between two autos traveling in different directions, on the hill east of the Slippery Rock creek bridge, Route 422, at 4:15 p. m. Monday, according to State Police. They are receiving treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

The injured are: Sister Immaculate, Hedy Graeser, 45, of 21800 Chardon road, Euclid, O.; sprained back, laceration of chin and shock, possible chest injuries.

Mother Superior, Romano, 50, of 21800 Chardon road, Euclid, O.; laceration of upper eye-lid, left ankle sprained.

Unrest Growing Among Miners

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Growing unrest among the rank-and-file coal miners gained momentum today as government plans went ahead for emergency movement of natural gas through the big inch and little inch pipe lines.

The diggers in the rich West Virginia-Pennsylvania soft coal fields, which employ more than 50 per cent of the 400,000 members of the United Mine Workers, were anxious to return to work but fear union reprisal.

Generally the miners interviewed by International News Service did not fear the movement of natural gas as a threat to their future employment.

Their desire to return to work was because they need money. Many of them resented the operators' action for assessing them a $1 a day for absenteeism.

Work Started On New City Directory

Burch Directory Company Expects To Issue Volume During Early Part Of 1947

Work has already been started on a new city directory for the city of New Castle, which will be issued by the Burch Directory Company, of Akron, O., who have been engaged in this particular line of business since 1862, and have compiled city directories for New Castle for the last half a century.

As soon as the information, which will go into the book, has been compiled, it will be rushed to the printers so that it can be in the hands of the public as quickly as possible.

There is a great need for a new directory, the last one having been issued in 1943. Work on publishing directories was suspended during the war because of the paper shortage.

Surprise Demand Franco Abdicate Presented To U. N.

American Delegation Steals Spotlight In Sessions By Making Demand

PROPOSAL TOSSED IN BY CONNALLY

BULLETIN
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 3.—(INS)—Senator Tom Connally, on behalf of the United States, today condemned the fascist Franco regime in Spain but asserted the Spanish people themselves must determine their own destinies.

Connally told the United Nations that the United States opposes a full break in economic and political relations with Spain.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 3.—A surprise American demand that Generalissimo Francisco Franco abdicate his Fascist regime in Spain stole the United Nations spotlight today.

Efforts to reach a formula for world reduction of armaments and Soviet Russia's cold insistence she would continue to use her veto power as she saw fit continued to afford spirited debate meanwhile.

It was the move against Franco, however, that attracted the most attention.

The U. S. delegation, through Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), had asked the UN political and security committee to bar Spain from all United Nations activities until Franco has been replaced.

Should Surrender Powers
"To achieve that end," declared an American resolution, "Gen. Franco should surrender the powers of government to a provisional government broadly representative of the Spanish people, committed to (Continued on Page Two)

Plan To Release Report Of Probe Made In Germany

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Four Republican members of the 10-man Senate War Investigating committee today overrode a "lame-duck" Democratic majority on the issue of making public secret testimony pin-pointing moral and administrative abuses in occupied Germany.

Their plan to release a suppressed military government report and Allied testimony was made over objections of Secretary of War Patterson and the six Democrats who theoretically control the committee.

The impasse, which lasted the last signs of bipartisan committee harmony, caused Chairman Kilgore (D) W. Va. to call a special meeting for Friday to discuss "transgressions" of committee procedure.

But it appeared unlikely that Kilgore's call would even produce a quorum of members. Only two Republicans and two Democrats are in Washington. Kilgore admitted that he might be meeting by himself.

Girl Struck By Auto; In Hospital

Maxine Panella, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Panella, 923 Morton street, is confined in the New Castle hospital, with injuries to her left leg, received in an auto accident Monday evening at 9:50 o'clock, when struck by an auto, reported driven by H. W. Martin, 917 Adams street.

The accident occurred at the corner of Morton and East Washington street. Her condition is fair, and X-ray pictures are to be taken today, to determine the full extent of her injuries.

HUNTER'S BULLET HITS PHONE LINES

KANE, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—A deer hunter's bullet found its target in a telephone cable and disrupted long distance phone service for 20,000 users in the Kane area last night, it was reported today by police.

The smashed cable, located in a wooded area south of Kane, curtailed service to residents of Potter and McKean counties for several hours.

Compensation In State Is Denied Striking Miners

Striking Against Federally Operated Mines Disqualifies Strikers Is Decision

BULLETIN
HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Striking bituminous miners today were denied jobless benefits by the state bureau of unemployment compensation.

The ruling was based on a decision issued last May 28 disqualifying miners who struck at federally-seized pits for 59 days.

The ruling asserted: "Any individual who fails to return to his job with a mining company whose operations have been taken over by the federal government under presidential executive order 9728 should be disqualified from receiving benefits under the Pennsylvania unemployment compensation law for any week which includes any part of the period during which the federal government continues in possession of the property of such company."

Approximately 100,000 Pennsylvania miners did not return to soft coal pits after midnight November 20 in the United Mine Workers (AFL) wage dispute with the federal government.

General Strike Grips Oakland

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 3.—(INS)—Oakland and nearby East Bay communities gripped in a paralyzing general strike today.

Public transportation serving upward of a million persons came to a complete halt, even before the hour set for the strike—5 a. m. (PST). Approximately 100,000 members of 200 AFL unions were involved.

The transportation tieup affected more than 100,000 commuters employed in San Francisco and other cities.

Restaurants, bars and union shop grocery stores and meat shops were scheduled to remain closed for at least the next 24 hours.

Building and construction worker likewise were scheduled to boycott their jobs.

The general strike was called by AFL unions protesting against police action last Sunday when six trucks were convoyed through picket lines at two strikebound Oakland department stores.

Nimrod Kills Deer Monday In Pulaski Township

Pulaski township yielded another deer Monday afternoon as Andrew Ratavsky of R. D. 3 made his kill in the afternoon. The buck had eight points and weighed 170 pounds.

First reported kill of the season was from the same area. John Braho bagging a 12-point, 190-pounder at 9:30 a. m. Monday morning.

JACK'S TAVERN ROBBED OF $25

Jack's Tavern, Neshannock avenue, was robbed last night of $25, according to a report made by Leo Orelli, attendant, to police.

Robbers broke a rear window to enter the kitchen and found the money where it had been hidden in the storeroom.

BITTEN BY DOG

Delores Patterson, age 17, of Young street, was bitten on a leg by a stray dog in that street yesterday afternoon, according to a report made by police. The laceration was attended by a physician.

Legal Barrier Delays School Salary Action

Cost-of-living increases for teachers of the New Castle public schools were delayed temporarily at least Monday night, December 2, when the New Castle school board met in a business session following the organization meeting.

Apparently in a mood to make some adjustments in the salary schedule, the board was faced with the legal barrier against making a supplemental budget outside of an emergency. An emergency, according to the school code is "an epidemic, fire, flood or other disaster of like kind."

Recommended By Dr. Burton
The matter of a cost-of-living increase for the present term, in addition to the $120 granted when the budget was made, came before the board when a letter from Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent, was read.

In the letter he cited a conference of the board held Monday night, December 2, when the board held its stated organization meeting. Leslie Brindle was re-elected president, Howard L. Reynolds vice president, Attorney Robert M. Wallace solicitor and S. G. Ligo as superintendent of buildings, grounds and equipment.

At 8 o'clock when the board met, Secretary and Business Manager John B. Bechtel read the call for the convention, the proper term for the organization meeting. Dr. W. Fulton Jackson was named president of the convention and nominations started.

Same Meeting Time
The board voted to continue the meeting nights as the second Wednesday after the first Monday night of the month. The same rules will govern as have governed. Director C. Leroy Shira was again named as a member of the sinking fund committee to serve with the president and treasurer.

The convention rose from its session and went into a business session of the board. An offer from the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company to put a roof over the new steel bleachers for $3090 was approved. This roof will cover about 300 seats and the idea is to sell these seats at a premium sufficient to retire the debt in about three years.

Two Injured In Collision

Accident Occurs On Route 422 Between Princeton And Rose Point

Two persons were seriously injured, and are undergoing treatment in the Jameson Memorial hospital, following a head-on collision between motor vehicles between Princeton and Rose Point on Route 422 at 1:30 p. m. Monday, according to the report of state police.

The injured are: Charles N. Spangler, aged 34 years, of 223 West Fulton street, Butler, operator of a passenger car, who suffered a cerebral concussion, fracture and separation of the collar-bone, abrasions of the chin and injuries of the chest.

Columbus McFarland, 989 Berrington road, Grasse Point, Mich., operator of a drive through truck, had fracture of left leg, with extensive laceration of that member.

According to the report received by the state police, McFarland was driving in an easterly direction in the report of state police.

Sudden Decision On Pipelines Use Mystifies Probers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Congressional probers were mystified today over the government's sudden decision to use the big and little men petroleum pipelines to carry natural gas during the coal emergency.

Rep. Slaughter (D) of Mo., chairman of the House Surplus Property Committee, issued a statement expressing gratification over the announcement made before his group by Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug.

The two pipelines, idle for more than a year, extend from Texas to the Philadelphia-New York area.

Slaughter and other committee members told reporters, however, that they had been advised from various sources that Krug's decision to grant a temporary lease to the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Co., apparently was made within a matter of hours before he appeared before the House group Monday afternoon.

Miners' Head And U. M. W. Guilty Of Contempt Of Court

Court Formally Finds Them Guilty—Delays Sentence Until Wednesday Morning

LEWIS SPEAKS AS TRIAL IS ENDED

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers union today were found guilty of contempt of court in refusing to halt the nationwide soft coal shutdown and will be sentenced tomorrow.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough announced that he would pass sentence after hearing views of government and defense attorneys on the punishment to be administered. Lewis was placed in custody of his counsel pending sentence.

At the request of Assistant Attorney General John P. Sonnett, Lewis was placed in custody of defense counsel, pending pronouncement of sentence.

Lewis Makes Statement
Lewis in an impassioned statement to the court charged that Judge Goldsborough had "deprived the miners of their constitutional rights."

Lewis declared that "as a citizen, the miners and I stand upon our rights guaranteed under the constitution."

Goldsborough adjourned court until 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow to give the opposing counsel an opportunity to prepare their views on the extent of the punishment.

U. S. And British German Zones In Single Unit

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The United States and Great Britain took a major step toward the economic reconstruction of Germany today with publication of a formal agreement bringing the British and American zones of the defeated Reich into a single unit.

The pact was signed by Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Its provisions are manifold and eliminate only political considerations.

So far as economics are concerned, it is designed to place at least 40 million German citizens on a self-supporting basis within three years, and whatever funds are poured into the Reich during the reconstruction period must be reimbursed at some future date.

Byrnes disclosed at a news conference in releasing text of the agreement that he had not discussed the pact with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov or with Maurice de Merville of France.

But he did express the hope that both Russia and France eventually would see their way clear to join in the agreement. He termed it a fair deal and said this sort of a deal was the only kind that the allied nations want.

Further Effort
To Smash Japan's Powerful Combines

TOKYO, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The campaign to break Japan's powerful economic combines was carried another step forward today.

The Japanese government Commission ordered 20 subsidiaries of the powerful Zaibatsu combine to break up their monopolies. The companies have assets totaling two billion yen under pre-inflation evaluation.

Under the Jap government order, all ownership of stock is being transferred to the HCLC for resale in small blocs under General MacArthur's program to spread economic ownership more widely among the Japanese.

He never knew a thing about a rifle, a shotgun was a thing of mystery; revolvers were for soldiers or policemen, he'd only touched a couple, maybe three. But here he goes and gets himself a license for hunting and by now it isn't clear just what occurred, but this I get from colleagues, he shot himself a nine-point handsome deer. Which only goes to prove you can't be sure, when hunters roam the woods it's plain to see, an amateur may bag a deer while experts are hunting for them—weather's thirty-three.

Battle Rages Near Manila

MANILA, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The U. S. Army 86th Division was alerted today as a furious battle raged on the outskirts of Manila between armed guerrillas and Filipino military police.

The crack of exploding mortar shells was clearly audible within Manila. Evacuees from nearby towns were pouring into Manila. An estimated 1000 armed peasants were taking part in the battle.

U. S. Army troops were placed on the alert and light tanks were ordered "on the ready" against any possible attack on American military installations.

Manila police forces likewise alerted, have been placed on 24-hour duty.

Scene of the fighting was in areas east of Manila where American and Filipino forces fought bloody engagements with the Japs last year.

Lange charged that Spain, under present conditions, was "the breeding ground for a third world war."

Spanish Republicans in exile naturally hailed the American proposal. There was considerable speculation as to what lengths this support would lead them.

Debate on the Spanish Issue was continuing throughout the day.

Simultaneously, a 14-power subcommittee worked valiantly to draft a resolution suitable to all dealing with the veto right of the Big Five and revision of the powerful security council's rules of procedure.

A resolution of sorts was expected to emerge, but of such a highly watered nature as to change nothing.

that Yugoslavia and Greece receive each a total of 150 million dollars reparations from Italy and Bulgaria. Today's session may come to a decision on how much each of the two Allied states shall receive from Bulgaria and Italy.

Frontiers Unchanged

The Big Four shovels into the agreed list a decision that the frontiers between Greece and Bulgaria remain unchanged. This was a partial victory for Molotov, but he accepted with Secretary of State Byrnes and Covic De Murville the general understanding that there shall be no further changes along the Bulgarian frontier where Greek territory could be fired upon.

This was the clause which calls for demilitarization of the Bulgarian frontier. British Foreign Secretary Bevin reserved decision on this point until this afternoon.

A basic understanding reached was that of allowing each of the five states the use and possession of motor torpedo boats. The number to be allowed has not yet been decided.

Molotov indicated he would be ready in a day or so to agree to the inclusion of the Austro-Italian pact over south Tyrol in the treaty, an attitude which reverses his position so tenaciously defended in Paris.

Deaths of the Day

William E. Emery
William E. Emery, aged 83 years, of North Beaver township, died Monday at the home of his son, Harry E. Emery.

He was born in Pittsburgh, December 24, 1862, and came in 1891, to North Beaver township, where he was a successful and widely known farmer. Mr. Emery was united in marriage November 29, 1892, to the former Miss Mary E. Pitts, who preceded him in death two years ago.

The deceased retired a few years ago and resided in Mt. Jackson, turning to the home of his son following the death of his wife. He was the last surviving member of his family and was a member of Westfield Presbyterian church.

Survivors include an only son, Harry E. Emery, four grandchildren, Earl D. Emery, Mt. Jackson, Mrs. Ruth I. Young, New Castle, Marian and William Emery, both at home; two great-grandchildren, George and James, both at home; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late residence in North Beaver township Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. John M. Fife officiating.

Interment will take place in Westfield cemetery.

The body will be returned late this afternoon from the Mahoning funeral home to the residence, where friends may call at any time.

Clarence Hogue, son of the deceased, arrived home early this morning from San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. McConnell Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Elizabeth McConnell, wife of Grant McConnell of Volant, R. D. 3, were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mahoning funeral home, with Rev. A. B. Weisz, pastor of Rich Hill Presbyterian church, officiating.

Carl List, Arthur McConnell, Finley Sankey, Leonard Holsappel, Grant and Claire Lutz served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Valley View cemetery.

Infant Barbara J. Williams

Barbara Joyce Williams, infant daughter of Harvey and Lois Byers Williams of Hillsville died Monday in the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she was born the same day.

Survivors in addition to the parents include a brother.

The body was removed to the Cunningham funeral home, Bessemer, and interment took place in Westfield cemetery.

PLAN TO RELEASE REPORT OF PROBE MADE IN GERMANY

Chief Counsel George Meader's report on conditions in the U. S. zone of occupied Germany and Austria.

Published Account

The published account, which Kilgore protested, said Meader found preliminary evidence of 1. Misconduct, U. S. Army officers and men, many of them Negroes.

2. A high venereal disease rate which averaged 897 per 1000 among Negro troops, and roughly 30 per cent among whites.

3. Low quality replacements among white troops, the intelligence rating of one troop showing that "about one-tenth were not even high-grade morons."

4. Refusal of some 450,000 displaced persons to return to their former homes in Soviet-dominated territory while "pressure groups" in the United States allegedly prevented their removal from UNRRA rolls.

5. An apparently well-financed plan, whereby 150,000 have migrated from eastern Europe into the U. S. zone in the past eight months, while the British and French zones remained closed to all refugees.

The published account, according to committee sources which disclaimed the "leak" of information, was based on a "first draft" of the report Meader made on a recent trip to Germany.

by a veto at some subsequent stage the world at least would have had some period respite from its arms race. He added:

"If there were a veto later, it would mean only that the world would take up its armament race where it left off."

Johnson said he has no fear that Russia, with armies less mechanized than the United States and Britain, and depending more greatly on mass manpower, could reform more rapidly if a period of disarmament were broken off. He said:

"As long as the United States has the kind of private industry it has now we would be in little danger. Industrial mobilization is more important."

once with representatives of the school teachers. He said he had told the group "I was perfectly willing to make the recommendation, but that I was not willing to name the amount to the board because I felt that was a matter the board members must decide."

He said that the state hopes to raise the minimum and maximum salaries of school teachers in the General Assembly of 1947 but that no hope was held out for a current cost-of-living increase that could be made effective for the 1946-47 school year. He then suggested that the board revise its 1946-47 budget and "grant a very liberal additional cost-of-living increase, retroactive to September 1". Concluding his letter he said "the teaching group as a whole should represent the cultural life of New Castle. If a teacher is worried about making ends meet, she will not do a very good job of teaching your child or my child."

Cites Court Case

A general discussion was held, almost all of which was favorable to some adjustment when Solicitor Robert L. Wallace said, "before you gentlemen take any action I believe you should know the legal status of your action. There is but one court case reported in such a matter but it appears to be similar to the question before you tonight. The school code says you cannot make a supplemental budget outside of an emergency. The latest opinion of the court seems to settle the question of a supplemental budget. This is an opinion of the Fayette county court in the matter of a supplemental budget for Redstone township in 1942. The teachers had asked an increase after the beginning of the term, and to enforce their demands had gone on strike."

"The board of directors and the teachers, then petitioned the court for a declaratory judgment to meet the proposed increase. The opinion said the board had no right to make a supplemental budget and the teachers were contractually bound and therefore bound legally and by duty to continue their work."

"I merely bring this matter before the board so that you members may have the legal status of such a request," said Mr. Wallace. "It is not a personal opinion with me, and certainly I have no wish to inject my opinions into the policy making of the board, but as solicitor I am compelled to advise you of the legal side of such a question."

Others Got It

It was pointed out that Redstone township had had another strike of teachers recently, that McKeesport had made an additional cost-of-living increase and finally after a discussion that lasted until nearly 11 o'clock Mr. Wallace was instructed to ascertain how other school districts circumvented the apparent intent of the school code to provide additional raises after the budget was made. This Mr. Wallace said he would do immediately.

As the matter stands now the request for additional cost-of-living increases has not been granted, but neither has it been refused. It is so to speak, status quo. If editorializing in a news article may be pardoned for this once, it would seem from observation the school directors are willing to make some adjustment in teachers' salaries for the present year, if someone will show them how it can be done legally.

Burke Resigns As President Of Southern Operators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Edward R. Burke resigned today as president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, following a row with the organization's board of directors over resuming negotiations with John I. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

The board of directors of the association announced acceptance of Burke's resignation at the conclusion of a two day conference in Washington.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

times are pretty cold by the time a bus arrives to pick them up. The original heaters of the buses proved ineffective, thus the installation of the new ones.

Pa Newc met one fellow who has a novel way of finding out whether or not he will keep his New Year's resolutions. He puts them into effect on December first and if by January first they are habits, they then become full fledged resolutions.

A familiar Public Square figure was conspicuous for his absence today. George Foster, newsman who occupies the little shed at the northeast corner of the square, was unable to be on the job due to illness.

Carl Pettit, R. D. 4, bagged his deer Monday morning near Titusville, it was learned today. The animal was an eight-point buck weighing 150 pounds.

The stork is slowing his speed at the New Castle hospital, the total births being 61 for the month of November, a decided drop from the 76 births recorded during October. During November there were 39 female infants born and 22 male infants.

Donald C. Jones called his mother, Mrs. Harry R. Jones of Miller avenue today, from Butler county, stating he had shot a large buck deer with six points near Bruin, Pa., at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Dimouts downtown didn't seem to affect the holiday shopping crowds. Pa Newc is told. Large crowds of shoppers were in the stores last night.

From all indications, flags of Iceland are scarce articles. In a request carried by Pa Newc on Saturday, for an Icelandic flag, for use in connection with appearance of the Icelandic singers at the Cathedral this evening, L. J. Lewis of the Metropolitan Concert Guild reports that none has been turned in thus far. It was thought perhaps that some former G. I. of the European theater might have one of the flags that he would be willing to loan.

FAITH

TWISTED

The colleges over the country are jammed with returned soldiers and others, expecting to learn professions of some kind, but we find very few returned soldiers who are learning building trades.

In a few years, the engineer and the architect will have no one to put his ideas into practice. This country is certainly in a great mess, when mechanics will tell you, if it is any accommodation, they might come and do some work for you. What will it be like in a few years?

GARDEN COUNCIL

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Garden Council Lawrence county members and guests at a meeting in the guild room of Trinity Episcopal church Monday afternoon heard a delightful talk on "Christmas Decorations and Legends Around the World" by Marion Foster Smith, of Saxenburg.

Christmas is a time of magic, a breathless, rushing time, and that's the way it should be, she declared, and in her charming way carried her audience in fancy to many lands for a glimpse of Christmas customs.

Christmas is a lesson in tolerance, she said, when you consider that nearly all our customs are borrowed from other lands and one, the burning of candles, comes from the time of the birth of Christ.

The use of evergreens for decoration is one custom that is peculiarly our own because it is a native material, she said. The speaker closed her talk with the story of "The Christmas Rose" and the easterner's prayer as a greeting for the holiday season.

Mrs. J. H. Vogan presided and introduced the speaker.

December 10 to 13, the council will sponsor a competitive show of Christmas arrangements in the former USO room on the Diamond.

VILLA MARIA SCENE

OF WEDDING EVENT

Miss Hattietta Marie Klenzing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mowery of New Bedford, and John Anthony Fornataro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fornataro, 920 Dewey avenue, were united in marriage at a lovely wedding performed in the St. Joseph's church, Villa Maria, Pa., Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Rev. Fr. Bernard Weigand officiated at the quiet but impressive service, using the double ring ceremony. A host of friends and relatives attended, and flowers and ferns embellished the altar.

For her wedding the bride was charming in a white satin gown with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and full skirt, made en train. Her fingertip veil fell from a high scalloped tiara and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby mums.

Miss Mary Winkler, bridesmaid, wore a blue satin gown, square yoke, and net overskirt, matching head-dress. Her bouquet was of pink roses and snapdragons. Miss Joan Klenzing, as junior bridesmaid, wore a white brocaded satin gown and carried pink roses.

Augustine Fornataro, Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. John Gentile was the usher.

Following the wedding the bridal party enjoyed a wedding breakfast at the bridegroom's home and a wedding dinner followed at the home of the bride. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table, flanked with tall candles on either side.

Mr. and Mrs. Fornataro departed on a trip to Washington, D. C., where they will visit Dr. and Mrs. A. P. McPhillips.

JUNIOR READING

CIRCLE SOCIAL

For its Christmas party and gift exchange the Junior Reading Circle met Monday evening in the nurses home of Jameson Memorial hospital. After a short business meeting with Mrs. William Carr presiding, the program for the evening was in charge of the social committee.

Carol singing led by Mrs. J. Kenneth Atkinson with Miss Olive Webb at the piano opened the program.

Contests of skill were the post-time. First was one on hat trimming with the prize winners Mrs. Raymond Webb and Miss Elizabeth Millholland. For this contest there were four designers, each with her own model. Judges were Mrs. Alfred Hyde and Miss Edith Cleveland.

For the second contest, dressing souvenir lollipop dolls, winners were Mrs. Harry Lockley, Mrs. Fred Brinkley, and for the most unusual, Mrs. Crawford Lyon. Judges were Mrs. John Riley and Mrs. Russell Renaley. All the members participated. A gift exchange was effected by matching numbers.

Table decorations in the Christmas theme were carried out when a delicious lunch was served with Mrs. Renaley pouring. Hostesses were Mrs. Renaley, Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. Ralph Gibson, and Miss Gertrude Graham.

Next meeting will be January 7, the place to be announced.

J. H. W. GROUP HAS

YULETIDE SESSION

Jean Hill Williamson Missionary society of Highland U. P. church was graciously received Monday evening in the home of Miss Elizabeth Bulz of Carlisle, Pa.

An inspiring Christmas program was offered under the leadership of Mrs. Irvine A. Balph. Mrs. S. Glenn McCracken pleased with a piano solo, "Silent Night," piano transcription by Kohlmann. Margaret Sangster's story, "Anniversary" was contributed as a reading by Mrs. J. Glenn Berry. Mrs. Dorothy Gormley, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Jay L. Reed, sang "The Christmas Carol."

Devotions were led by Mrs. A. C. Miller Jr., while Mrs. Samuel Stans presented temperance items, combed by Wayne W. Womer. During the business session, conducted by Mrs. E. F. Henderson, president, Mrs. Henry Stone, thank offering secretary, announced that the society's thank offering this year amounts to $305. Names of Mrs. Frank Schick, Mrs. Joseph E. McIlvenny, Mrs. Richard Davis and Mrs. Stone have been added to the list of donors.

A seasonal lunch was served by hostesses, Mrs. Russell C. Tait, Miss Elsie Grieder, Mrs. Margaret McCreary, Miss Charlotte Emery and Mrs. W. Anson McKee.

Mrs. Irvine A. Balph of 401 Wallace avenue will entertain at the next assembly in her home Monday evening, January 6.

GUY-MUDER

WEDDING TOLD

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Louise Guy, of Wampum, R. D. 1, and J. Gerald Muder of Beaver Falls, in the Smithfield Evangelical Protestant church of Pittsburgh on Friday afternoon, November 29.

Rev. E. Stoeker officiated with the double ring ceremony. The bride was lovely in a gray wool suit with silver and blue accessories and a corsage of white baby mums.

Mrs. Muder is a teacher in the Koppel school and Mr. Muder is principal of the same school. For the present they will reside in Beaver Falls.

Relief Corps To Meet

Nomination of officers will feature the meeting of Louise E. Simon Relief Corps on Wednesday evening in the Trades and Labor Assembly hall.

Hi-Lo Club To Meet

Hi-Lo club members will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Jack Matthews, Neshannock avenue, on Wednesday evening, December 4.

WILLING WORKERS

ELECT OFFICERS

Members of the Willing Workers Bible class of the First Congregational church gathered for their regular meeting in a local tea room over the week-end, with Mrs. Griff Lewis as hostess.

The annual business session was presided over by Mrs. Dave Matthews, when the following officers were elected: Mrs. Rachel Long, president; Mrs. Griff Lewis, vice-president; Miss Margaret Davies, reporter; Mrs. Daniel Davies, Mrs. Myrtle James, Mrs. Griff Thomas, business committee; Mrs. Ben Fowler, treasurer; Mrs. John Coughlin, flower secretary.

Games of contest were the diversion of the evening, when prizes were captured by Mrs. Coughlin, Mrs. Rees Price, Mrs. Matthews, Misses Florrie and Margaret Davies and Mrs. Annie Davies.

A delicious lunch was served. Next meeting will take the form of a Christmas party, to be entertained in the home of Mrs. Griff Thomas, 107 Park avenue, on Thursday evening, December 19.

MARGARET M. ROONEY

WEDS JOHN TAYLOR

St. Mary's church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on Thursday, November 28, when Miss Margaret Mary Rooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rooney, 820 Carson street, became the bride of John J. Taylor, son of Mrs. Ben Taylor, 311 North Beaver street. Yellow chrysanthemums adorned the altar at which Rev. Fr. James P. O'Connor, of Coraopolis, cousin of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony at a 9 a. m. nuptial mass. Singing was provided by the choir.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white tulle, with long, trailing and fingertip illusion veil which fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried white roses. As maid of honor, Catherine Rooney, sister of the bride, was attired in an aqua gown and matching veil. She carried baby mums and roses.

Bridesmaids, Patricia Rooney, and Elizabeth Russell, sister and cousin of the bride, respectively, wore pink and yellow gowns with veils carrying carnations.

Ben Taylor served as best man with ushers, Joseph and Harry Taylor, brothers of the groom.

After the ceremony a dinner was served seventy-five guests at a tea-room on Wilmington road. A reception followed at the bride's home where vocal selections were rendered by a quartet composed of Elmo Pape, Harry Taylor, William Quinn and John Flynn.

The newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Taylor is an inspector at Bell Telephone Co. and Mr. Taylor is employed at the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing Co.

DeCARBO-RETORT

CHURCH WEDDING

At a double ring ceremony, performed in St. Vitus church Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Antonette DeCarbo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeCarbo of Harrison street, became the bride of John Retort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Retort, Harrison street.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated at the ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. Ferns and flowers embellished the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white brocaded tulle, with sweetheart neckline, made en train. Her long veil fell from a sweetheart crown sprinkled with orange blossoms. She wore a lavalier, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and baby mums.

Miss Florence DeCarbo, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a gown of blue tulle with drop-shoulder, bustle back. She carried pink roses and baby mums.

Sam Retort served as best man. Afterwards a wedding breakfast was served in a hall on Division street, followed by the wedding dinner. A large crowd attended the reception in the King Humbert hall in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Retort departed on a trip to Indiana and New York, and upon their return will reside on Harrison street.

Mrs. Retort is employed at Call's grocery store and Mr. Retort is affiliated with Johnson Bronze company.

Celli-Mascio Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John Celli, 2 Rosanna avenue, Ellwood City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Celli, to Patsy Mascio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amy Mascio, 813 DuShane street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Take It Easy

Winter has gone into dress rehearsal and the cast of frost imps has gotten at least the first reading of its lines. In the past forty-eight hours the streets and highways were sheathed in ice, and motorists got their first taste of hazardous driving.

"Take It Easy" is a good slogan for such weather. The slightest lapse from caution in driving can mean a skid and a skid may mean a bad accident.

Skids are much more likely to happen with modern day tires. We have not yet got back to all rubber tires and for some reason the synthetics seem to harden with the cold weather, making driving more exacting than ever.

The street and highway departments have already taken up the job of ashing streets and highways and as usual are doing a good job. But accidents are not confined to hills, they happen on straight away stretches as well.

Saving a few seconds by speeding may cost a week in a hospital. Trying to prove how fast your car can go on a slippery street is writing your own ticket to trouble.

Better be safe than sorry.

Labor Law Revision

It is now plainer than ever that the incoming Congress must put revision of labor laws at the very top of its legislation program. The new Republican majorities in both the Senate and the House were swept into office with a clear mandate to rescue the country from the stagnant swamp of constant strikes.

The coal crisis has intensified and solidified public sentiment in favor of a change in the laws which will prevent irresponsible labor leaders from wrecking the nation's economy.

There has been talk of calling the old Congress into special session. But this is not a satisfactory method of dealing with the problem. These men have only a few weeks more to serve. They would have to act hastily, if at all, with the knowledge that whatever legislation they adopted would probably be repealed or revamped by the incoming Congress.

A more sensible procedure would be to take up the question of new labor legislation when Congress convenes for its regular session in January. The situation calls for more than a piece of patchwork. What is needed is a review and revision of the whole field of federal labor law. There should be amendment of the anti-trust and anti-monopoly laws to bring labor unions under their provisions.

The Wagner Act, now entirely lopsided in favor of the unions, should be repealed or revised. Other laws which grant unions special privileges and immunities without imposing equivalent responsibilities upon them should also be reviewed.

Legislation alone cannot insure industrial peace. But it is possible to revise laws which have promoted and intensified strife between labor and management. The new Congress has no job to do that is more important than this one.

Hearing And Safety

Most people over 35 years of age have lost some of their hearing without realizing it, according to a study of deafness made by a national life insurance company. Such unsuspected loss of acuteness may explain numerous traffic accidents in which the driver fails to hear an oncoming locomotive or other vehicle above the noise of his own car.

It is a strange psychological quirk, the report observes, that eye glasses are readily put on and worn as soon as visual handicap is realized, but the same person feels ashamed to wear a hearing aid, even though his impairment constantly handicaps and irritates his business, social and family life, while he runs added risks of accidental injury or death. Catastrophic conditions and diseases which involve high fever are major causes of hearing impairments in childhood. Circulatory diseases such as high blood pressure are frequent causes of advancing deafness in older age groups.

The hearing problem is receiving new study by physicians and accident prevention officials. Children should have their ears tested at least once a year. Diagnosis of incipient impairment could result in corrective measures which would avert adult deafness. And grownups who neglect similar routine checkups may be endangering their lives and limbs as well as the safety of others.

1,700 Miles An Hour

Is man to turn creator and fill the universe with tiny spinning worlds? It is announced that the Army is ready with an airship capable of going 1,700 miles an hour. If it goes that fast, airmen say, friction will melt the windshield.

There are those who hold that the earth is nothing more than the condensation of a mass of gas tossed off by the sun. This mighty mass, billions of years ago, was cast adrift in the void where there was no air to cause friction. It spun and spun and as it spun cooled. Eons passed and the gas solidified. Finally it was a hard mass, air appeared and later creatures like man moved on the face of the mass which by this time was a ball well regulated by habits of travel.

Now if man keeps on he is going to get something up into the vacuum that goes so fast that particles will fly off and commence to spin. Unhindered by friction, these particles will change into tiny worlds. Perhaps they will take on some kind of microscopic atmosphere and a tiny form of life may appear. Thus will man disturb the universe. Or will he?

News that a forgotten musical composition written by Benjamin Franklin is to be given an airing reminds us that Old Ben had more interests than a bank with 10,000 loans outstanding.

Though Ben had the whole French court dancing to the tune he figuratively blew, we didn't know he aspired to be the Irving Berlin of his period.

Franklin was a crackerjack newspaperman. His every wisecrack was a one-punch editorial but he also kept busy between editions.

Ben was the first man to fly a kite in the interest of science. He knew that lightning had a greater purpose than just to make little kids hide their heads under the pillow.

Franklin also invented a stove which was as far ahead of its contemporaries as is a jet job over a 1890s survey.

Ben was also on the committee which drafted the Declaration of Independence, a piece of writing that changed all history.

Franklin is famed as a brilliant statesman. He talked the French court into loaning millions of francs to the American colonies which were broke at the time. It was the best bet France ever made—as every Frenchman living from 1917 through our own time will tell you.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Nations Are Moving Cautiously With Reds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—One thing must be said for Russian strategy in the United Nations poker game—it is always unexpected. When Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov agreed to accept the principle of international inspection to insure disarmament and control of atomic energy, he dropped a bombshell that took everyone by surprise.

The Molotov proposal is now being subjected to the closest study by the experts in all delegations to determine whether it means what it actually seems to mean. Suspicion is so deep and the stakes are so great that nothing is taken for granted.

The experts who know Russia had said that the Soviets would never accept inspection. They based this on the belief that inspection by foreigners authorized to go anywhere at any time would be a challenge to the supremacy of the state and therefore contrary to the supremacy of the secret police, the NKVD, who dominated so many aspects of Russian life.

That is one reason why the Molotov proposal, for two inspection commissions, is being so closely examined. Those who know the Soviet system from first-hand experience find it hard to believe that the Russians will really accept inspection with all that it means.

Inspectors' Work Subject to Veto. Nevertheless, by their acceptance in principle they have put themselves in a strong position. What this new move has done to crystallize once again opinion on the issue of the veto.

Molotov had said that the two inspection commissions would be set up with the framework of the United Nations Security Council. Presumably, therefore, the work of the inspectors would be subject to the big power veto just as the acts of the Security Council are subject to veto.

This was the question that the British promptly raised through Sir Hartley Shawcross. Sir Hartley used strong language. He spoke of the Molotov "scheme" as "a fraud, a delusion and a snare."

But that is too hasty a judgment. The Russian proposal should be fully explored before it is rejected out of hand. Since it seems to go such a long way, it should be taken as something to build on.

It gets down to a question of the reality of the veto in this connection. Any nation that proposed to veto the work of an inspection commission, once it was set up, would thereby almost automatically plead guilty to a violation, or an intended violation, of the rules the commission was trying to enforce.

That is the reality of the veto in this instance, it seems to me. Take a theoretical example. Supposing the two inspection commissions were functioning today, one for atomic energy and the other for all forms of armament. Let's say, for the purposes of the example, that the United States vetoed the veto to keep international inspectors out of the army's rocket-proving grounds in New Mexico.

Russia Has Much More to Gain. Would Great Britain and Russia need any other notice that we were perfecting in New Mexico some weapon we intended to withhold from the world? Obviously not! That is why, it seems to me, the reality of the veto in this instance has been greatly exaggerated in the course of a theoretical debate which is likely to prove a dead end.

International inspection implies overwhelming changes in the nature of our world. In many ways, Russia has far more to gain from such a system than we have. It means internationalizing the vast body of knowledge that this country has accumulated. Few have realized how advanced the American position is.

Baruch Favored Disarmament. Nor is it generally known that Bernard M. Baruch, head of the U. S. atomic energy delegation, wanted to include in his speech of last June a proposal for general disarmament. He was asked not to include such a proposal because Senator Connally had disarmament plans of his own that he wanted to present later on.

Baruch in his speech of June 14 did put in a reference to the need for over-all disarmament. But the way was left open for Molotov to propose universal disarmament. Being good strategists, the Russians rarely miss such an opportunity.

All the time that public debate goes on, the scientists and technologists are at work in the laboratory of the world. There is a kind of compulsion which drives them on to ever new discoveries. The value of the hands in the United Nations poker game are subject to sudden and unexpected changes.

Subway heat was at a minimum because of John Lewis and many hoped he would be sentenced to ride from Brooklyn to The Bronx . . . on a local.

At the United Nations, a South American delegate suggested that the general assembly immediately move to some place in the south . . . like Philadelphia.

Told "Philadelphia is not south of New York . . . it's west," he said "You make the joke . . . I have seen pictures . . . no cowboys . . . no Indians."

A delegate from Siberia said "The American people are soft . . . flabby . . . in Siberia it gets four times as cold." I said "What do you do when it gets so cold?" He said "Come to New York . . . you dope!"

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Those wonderful receptions and the many tokens of friendship I received on my recent vacation trip made me think that maybe I am a pretty important guy after all, although my wife always tells me that I don't assert myself enough.

But today I got right back to where I belong, and all the conceit has been knocked out of me.

A letter arrived this morning from El Cerrito, Calif. It is a five-page, single-spaced, typewritten letter from a fellow who heartily agrees with the one who some time ago wrote me that my column "stinks."

When I wrote about that anonymous knight of the poison-pen I called him a skunk and said that anybody who writes anonymous letters is a skunk.

This fellow signs his name, and doesn't pull any punches. I like him for that.

Furthermore, he admits that my column is not altogether malodorous, but only in parts.

That, he says, is due to the fact that I am in the clutches of capitalistic bosses who tell me what to write and what not to write and he is sorry for me for being a slave and a tool of bloated millionaires.

The fellow doesn't like my column. He doesn't know why he reads it, he says, but that he reads it daily in spite of himself, because he feels that deep down in his servile soul I show a desire to shed my fetters and be a man.

For three pages he quotes verbatim from my columns as far as three years back. He has pasted them all in a scrapbook, he writes, and reads them over whenever he wants to get going and mad.

"Your column solves nothing," he writes, "it answers no questions, offers no remedy for anything, but recounts only the doings of the Smiths and Joneses, which, in the last analysis, is but the old madish gossip of bygone years."

But, at the end of the letter, he offers to go into partnership with me and a wealthy friend about whom I wrote that in spite of his millions he is bored with life.

"If you are a MAN," he writes, "you will do this. He has the money. You have the English. I have the science. Here is a trine that is a knockout—if properly managed."

I gratefully declined the partnership and told my correspondent that I would continue to paddle my own canoe.

Now, as far as my being the tool of bloated millionaire bosses is concerned—that is just plain hokey. Nobody tells me what to write. Nobody has ever tried to dictate a line of my column.

There is only one rule when everybody who writes ought to follow. In your writing use the same good taste that you use in your everyday life. Don't hurt anybody if you can possibly avoid it. Don't be incoherent, don't attack any race or creed. Don't make people unhappy, but try to help them and cheer them. Attack evil, and point out the good in this world and in its inhabitants.

Simple rule, isn't it? And you know who made it? My mother and father and my own conscience.

From Me To You

Remember Deshon?

This is not exactly a solicitation for funds . . . but we thought that maybe there would be some folks who would want to help send some packages to Deshon Hospital in Butler. Christmas packages. The Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross is going to make up twenty-five Christmas boxes for the soldiers at Deshon. If anyone would like to help supply the material to fill these boxes they may do so by contacting the Red Cross headquarters on Beaver street . . . or if you prefer to send a little cash . . . either send it there or to this desk.

You have no idea . . . unless you happened to spend some time away from home on Christmas . . . and also in a hospital suffering from wounds received in battle . . . just what it means to receive a Christmas Package from people who are civilians. It does something for the body that all the medicine in the world can't do.

According to a report that we have received from outlying communities yesterday . . . the 2nd of December was the coldest December 2nd that has been experienced since somewhere in the 1890's. So if you were feeling the cold yesterday don't be too much worried about your blood being too thin . . . it really was cold.

One of our men went deer hunting yesterday . . . and reported back this morning full of good fresh air . . . with a set of rosy cheeks. The deer, "Never saw so many deer, must have counted sixty," he said "but not one had a set of horns." That's the beginning of the deer stories . . . they will grow in proportion as the days roll by.

Christmas Day might be important to the children . . . but right now it's the first day of Christmas vacation that holds the attention.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LOITERING MAY BE DANGEROUS

Many letters come to me about the young child who loiters on the way home. Usually it is the child of the first or second grade. The concern of the worried parent is over the child's safety. Often the mother will have to endure great anxiety when this child arrives home an hour or two later than the time expected.

This loitering practice usually begins in a very innocent fashion. The youngster decides to play at a school mate's home or to go with him to explore or of some places and activities appealing to them.

Hazards Of Loitering. Not only may there be physical hazards but also moral hazards to the loitering child. Besides, he easily can develop a habit of loitering, gaining thereby a good background for truancy later.

Often this loitering child has not had normal play experiences at home and is finding more playmates elsewhere. Parents should look into this matter and try to cultivate richer social play for the child in and about his home. Moreover, they might work out a plan with the child whereby he must, after reporting home promptly, go to a playmate's home. M. Bulletin, "The Child and His Playmates," May be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, N. Y.

Welcome The Child

It should help for the mother to be home when the child arrives to welcome him and make his return pleasant. If however, efforts fail, the following methods are advised:

Go (walk if possible) to the school or part-way there to accompany the youngster home. Explain once to him you won't need to continue this practice when he can bring himself home promptly. If punishment finally seems necessary, assign the child to sit in a chair for 30 minutes for each arrival home a minute later than the reasonable, designated time. Be decisive. Don't trust to exhorting and jailing. Permit no exceptions. A "dose" may be needed on several successive days to guarantee "cure."

The Truancy Problem

Some older children from so-called "good homes" play hooky sometimes with one or several pals. Following the first known offense, the school should telephone the home or send a messenger, for necessary checking. Certainly the home should telephone the school at different periods of the day after discovering the child has "played hooky" once. Moreover, parents should cooperate with the school to impress on the erring child the seriousness of the offense before the youngster has had practice in this dangerous habit.

In many parts of the Nation, school principals have told me of their concern over parents (especially in the better economic areas) who become "partners in crime" with the youth. Accordingly, when several youngsters skip school for an afternoon to take a joy ride or attend a movie or the like, their parents knowing the facts, may write a deliberate lie on the "excuse" the next morning saying the child was ill.

Can you think of a greater parental sin? Consider, too, the damage to the discipline, morale and good name of the school.

In all probability there will be controversy over the idea of a new United States Chamber of Commerce investigating committee revealing alleged activities of Communists in this country. Particularly, exception may be taken by the national administration to the statement that the Treasury and Labor Departments have been harboring Reds. But there are two recommendations of the investigators which are of undoubted merit.

One is that Congress should impose loyalty tests on suspected Communists in, or seeking to enter, government service.

The other is that admission of aliens from Communist countries should be limited to the number of our own nationals admitted to Communist countries, and that these aliens while here should be subject to the same scrutiny as that imposed on our nationals in Communist countries.

In view of the fact that a Communist's first loyalty is to his party or some foreign nation—rather than to the United States, it is obvious that this first loyalty will impel conduct beneficial to the party or the foreign nation at the expense of the United States. Not (Continued on Page Nine)

Washington Reports

Steelman, Schwollenbach Cool On Injunction Idea
Army Would Put Quietus On Push-Button Weapons
Little Chance Seen Of Lifting Sugar Rationing

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—At least two key federal officials were reported opposed to the government's crackdown and use of the injunctive process against John L. Lewis in the coal walkout.

They were Reconversion Director John R. Steelman and Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwollenbach.

Steelman was understood to favor an attempt by the government to work out a reasonable settlement with the miners on a new wage agreement.

A long-time friend of Lewis, Steelman reportedly fears widespread trouble in other labor unions as a result of the government's harsh campaign against United Mine Workers.

Schwollenbach also is known to oppose the use of the injunctive process in labor disputes. He made this clear after the Pittsburgh power strike.

A Pittsburgh court issued an injunction against the utility walkout and jailed the independent union leader. Immediately sympathy walkouts were called by AFL and CIO unions and the situation worsened until the union boss was released.

The war department has instructed its public relations officers to put the hush-hush on talk about rockets and "push-button" weapons of the atomic era.

Reason: All the publicity about Brick Bradford and Flash Gordon devices has generated a feeling in Congress that the large military forces the army seeks may be unnecessary.

So military orators and writers have been ordered to slant their efforts toward publicizing present, practical needs for manpower and steel clear of electronics.

But, says the Pentagon, admit, however, that it will be difficult to overcome the result of the terrific buildup given guided missiles, supersonic aircraft and, of course, the atom bomb.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff, made a vigorous plea for support of the army's recruiting campaign in his address before the CIO convention. Other top generals can be expected to fall in line. Research and tests of fancy security weapons will proceed, of course, but they will, as the saying goes, be cloaked in mystery.

There is no chance that sugar rationing will be lifted soon, but one group would like to see it scrapped immediately.

Agitation for removal of sugar ceilings is coming from Puerto Rico, where decontrol of other foods while sugar control continues is creating an economic problem.

Puerto Rican Resident Commissioner Fornos Isern says that the only solution to Puerto Rico's troubles is the lifting of sugar controls. Fornos explains that the cost of living is soaring in Puerto Rico because controls were dropped on most foods. But the raw product, sugar, from which most Puerto Ricans get their incomes, is being kept under rigid ceilings.

The result, Fornos declares is a squeeze on the sugar workers and indirectly on most other residents of the island. He contends that recent increases in sugar prices have not kept up to the rapidly climbing prices of other goods.

Meanwhile, the agriculture department reveals that there may be an increase in sugar rations next April, and that removal of ceilings isn't even being contemplated now.

State Police Say—

The modern aviator can run a plane from one end of the country to the other depending wholly on his instruments. You can't do that with an automobile, but it does emphasize the importance of letting the dash instruments help you. These gauges might be compared to a doctor's instruments for making medical examinations. The "symptoms" which they reveal will often point the way to the cause of prevention which, if taken promptly, may avoid the need for a pound of cure later on.

EXPLOSION CAUSES DEATH OF WOMAN

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Police reported today that leaking gas apparently caused the explosion and fire yesterday which killed Mrs. Margaret Kirchner, 52, wife of a Duquesne Light company official, in her Pittsburgh home.

Police said they believed the gas leaked from a line in the basement. The blast also injured Mrs. Kirchner's mother, Mrs. Sara Davidson, 70, who was thrown against a wall, police said.

Damage to the home was estimated at $4,000.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Emerick of Sixth street gave a family turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, at their home on Saturday evening. The gathering took the form of a reunion of the family.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. James Emerick and two children of Dayton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davies and three children of Wampum, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George Emerick and son Gene and Mr. and Mrs. William Emerick.

Reminiscing was the pastime of the evening.

ST. MARGARET'S COUNCIL TO MEET

Members of St. Margaret's Council No. 74, will have their election of officers, Sunday afternoon, December 8, at 4:30 o'clock, in their club rooms, North Liberty street.

President, Bart Lombardo will have charge.

YOUNG FOLKS MEET

On Saturday evening at 7:30, the Youth Fellowship group of the Mahoning Methodist church, are planning a Saturday-evening party, in the social room of the church.

Chairman of arrangements is Robert Bender, assisted by Misses Myrna Lou Pearce, Georganne Heidish, Patty Simmons, Norma Jean Pearce, Theresa Sparano.

Young people of the three ward churches are welcome to attend.

MOTHER RECOVERING NICELY

Word has been received by Mrs. Stanley Arent of 202 Mahoning avenue, that her mother, Mrs. Laura Zielski of Pittsburgh, has returned to her home from St. Francis hospital, that city, and is recovering nicely. Mrs. Zielski suffered a head concussion and severe body bruises, when she fell a couple of weeks ago, on the basement stairs. She resides with her son Anthony Zielski and family.

AT FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Huff, son John and daughter Dorothy of 604 North Liberty street, have returned from Scrubbers, Ohio. They attended a dinner gathering on Sunday in the home of Mrs. Huff's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Slaven, which took the form of a family reunion.

GIRL SCOUTS SATURDAY

Members of Girl Scouts Troop 16, will meet on Saturday afternoon at 1:30, in the social room of the Mahoning Methodist church. Mrs. Bessie Pitzer, leader, in charge.

INJURED WOMAN IMPROVING

Mrs. L. R. Shope, of 610 North Liberty street, is somewhat improved. She suffered injuries on Friday afternoon, when struck by an automobile on Albert street.

BEREANS CHRISTMAS DINNER

At the Madison Avenue Christian church, this evening, the Berean Bible class will gather for their annual Christmas dinner, in the dining room. Serving will commence at 6:30.

HAVE HECTIC RIDE

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. McGowan, of 512 West Madison avenue, have returned from Windham, Ohio, after taking their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sigley back home, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays here with their parents. They report a hectic trip Sunday evening, with slippery roads, and a number of bad accidents on the way. It took them five hours to reach Windham. They believe our state highway department do better work than that in Ohio, as no ashes had yet been placed on the roads, autoists helped themselves to ashes along the road.

EAGLE PATROL TONIGHT
At seven o'clock this evening, members of Eagle patrol Boy Scouts will meet in the council room of the Mahoning Methodist church.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. Louise Domenick, of 115 West Wabash avenue, is slowly improving. She received treatment for a week, and has been returned home from the New Castle Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Anderson and family, of Orlando, Fla., are visiting in the home of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Leitch, of 107 East Clayton street.

Mrs. Myrtle Occhibone, of 502 North Liberty street, was confined to the Jackson Memorial Hospital for 15 days, receiving treatment, and has been returned to her home. She is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Gladys F. Biler, of 218 East Clayton street, has been returned to her home from the Jackson Memorial Hospital, and feels much improved. Mrs. Biler, who was quite ill, was confined to the hospital for observation and treatment for a couple of days, and had X-ray pictures taken.

Bags Silver Fox Near Water Works

Lawrence County Rapidly Adding To List Of Wild Game Roaming Area

Lawrence county seems to be gradually becoming the mecca for wild animals. This fall bear was sighted in North Beaver township, a wildcat was killed in Neshannock township, a coyote near Darlington, deer are sighted and killed in different parts of the county and now, what appears to be a silver fox has been killed just on the edge of the city.

Albert Fleischer, 22, of Orlando avenue, fought and killed the fox with the butt of his gun after running it down near the Water Works Saturday afternoon. Fleischer was hunting rabbit near the spot on Thanksgiving Day and had seen the animal then. On Saturday, he returned to the place, looking for the fox. He wasn't disappointed and the fox and he, sighted each other at about the same time.

Mr. Fox took off at high speed with Mr. Fleischer after it. After a chase of some length, Fleischer was within striking distance and hit the fox with his gun. The fox, stunned, attempted to fight but was not given a chance.

Young Fleischer reports that the beast is about the size of a large hunting dog and has grey fur with white tips and a small tan spot near the jaw. He intends to keep the fur.

MISS M. ROSS BACK FROM RITES FOR KIN

Mrs. Marian Ross of 307, Highland avenue, has returned from Marion Center, Pa., where she attended funeral services for her mother, Mrs. Charles D. (Mary) Ross. Services were conducted from the late residence, and interment took place Friday morning.

Mrs. Ross died suddenly Tuesday evening as the result of a heart attack at her home.

STAMP CLUB WILL MEET ON THURSDAY

Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, members of the New Castle Stamp club will assemble in the Y. M. C. A. on the Public Square for their regular meeting.

During the evening, an auction will be carried on among the members of the club as a feature.

John Hitch, president of the club, announces that the membership roll is still open for new members.

VETS MAY JOIN RESERVE PROGRAM

Wednesday evening the recruiting office of the U. S. Navy, located in the post office building, will be open between the hours of 7 to 9 p. m. for the purpose of enlisting ex-navy personnel into the V-6 reserve program.

Applicants need only bring their discharge papers and separation certificate. No physical examination is necessary.

Every state has taken action to speed reconversion and aid employment.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germs, soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends each wood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to give your money back. (Adv.)

Hear Testimony In Bilbo Probe

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 3.—(INS)—A stream of colored Mississippi citizens marched to the Jackson Federal building today to continue their story of long-standing hatreds, racial prejudices, intimidations and corporal punishment.

Yesterday, 31 Negroes—lawyers, ministers, laborers, tradesmen and college students—came to tell a Senate committee on elections how they were beaten, threatened and generally mistreated in efforts to register and vote in Mississippi.

It was this election which sent Sen. Theodore Bilbo back to Washington for six more years, his third term.

Alleged campaign remarks of Bilbo, who was quoted as urging that Negroes not be allowed to vote, are being probed by the committee.

Today's witnesses were expected to unfold new instances of the multiple ways employed that resulted in only 414 Negroes in Hinds county voting. Hinds county has a Negro population of 55,000.

Seven Injured As Automobiles Crash

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Seven men were injured today, four seriously, in a collision between two automobiles in West Philadelphia.

Police said all the victims were either dazed or unconscious, and were unable to relate details of the crash.

Most seriously injured were tentatively identified as Frank P. Drozal, 32; Peter A. Lennon, 23; John Walsh, 20, and John Sarsfield, 20, all of West Philadelphia.

SCHOOL HEAD DIES

REPUBLIC, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—Raymond S. Call, 44, principal of the Redbank township high school for a number of years, died last night at his home in Republic following several months' illness. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

ANNOUNCING THE FORMAL OPENING OF LAWRENCE FURNITURE STORE

2-4-6 West Long Ave.

On the South Side

We are pleased to announce to our many friends and customers the re-opening of this store. Although we have been opened for some time, a formal announcement was delayed until we could offer a larger selection of merchandise.

HOWEVER

Our stocks are far from complete. There is still a scarcity in some lines of furniture, particularly, those lines with a reputation for quality and true value. There are many factories only too willing to supply us with these scarce commodities, but we will not jeopardize our past reputation for handling only quality goods, at fair prices. We hope, in the near future, to have selections in all lines that we know will please.

WE INVITE

Your inspection of our stocks at all times, whether you have intentions of buying or not. As in the past, you will find it worthwhile to shop here. Remember "IT'S USUALLY A BETTER BUY AT LAWRENCE".

Within a few days we will announce a SPECIAL EVENT that will be well worth waiting for. Watch FRIDAY'S paper for details!

WOLVES CLUB

Three new members of the board will be elected at the dinner-meeting of the Wolves club this evening at 6:30 o'clock at The Castleton. President Joseph Bardonaro Jr. will preside. William DeCarbo, program chairman, will have charge. Bowling will be featured afterwards.

POWER COMPANY CHRISTMAS PARTY

ON DECEMBER 14
Pennsylvania Power company's annual Christmas party will be held Saturday evening, December 14, according to L. B. Round, vice-president and general manager. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. The evening will be featured by an entertainment to be presented by Maurice Spitalnik.

Resident's Brother Claimed By Death

Joseph A. Paluszak, 508 North Jefferson street, received word Monday evening that his brother, Rev. Fr. Anthony B. Paluszak, Ph.D., C.P.P.S., died suddenly Monday, December 2, in Collegeville, Ind.

Father Paluszak, a member of the Precious Blood Order, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the Catholic University, Washington, D.C., and for a number of years was dean of the Catholic University Extension School, San Antonio, Tex., during the summer sessions.

For the past few years he was professor of Latin and Greek at St. Joseph's College, Collegeville, Ind.

Mr. Paluszak left today to attend the service.

GIRL SCOUTS

Scout Leaders' Association

The Girl Scout Leaders' association will hold their annual Christmas party on Friday evening, December 13, at 7:30 o'clock in the recreation room of the Trinity Episcopal church, North Mill street.

An exchange of gifts will take place, with a social time and refreshments to follow.

Carol Group To Meet

Girl Scouts who are to go out this year to sing carols, will hold a rehearsal, Saturday, December 7, at 10 a. m. in the Girl Scout office in the Greer building. Mrs. Jenkins, the leader, will be in charge.

Brownie Troop 46

Brownie Troop 46 of Croton school, which recently celebrated its second birthday, went on a hike Friday out the Harlansburg road to see how bricks are made at a brickyard there.

This group of 28 small girls is making "thinking bags" filled with gifts for overseas Girl Scouts, and is also working on favors for hospital trays.

Troop leaders are Mrs. John Bender and Mrs. Everett Perkins.

Chauncey R. McAnis, who has been the guest of his sister, Miss Marjorie McAnis, of Court street, for the past week, has returned to his home in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

STATE FARM SHOW LACKS PASTRIES DUE TO SHORTAGES

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Homemaking exhibits of bread, cakes and pies were declared casualties of postwar shortages today by the State Farm Show Commission.

None will be displayed during the five day stand of the State Farm Show opening at Harrisburg January 13, according to Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst, chairman.

He pointed out that shortages of foods and fats precluded waste but said exhibits of jellies, canned fruits, meats and vegetables would be displayed.

"Farm housewives are disappointed, but agree that for this year, when sugar and shortening are so scarce, conservation is more important than the chance to win a blue ribbon," Horst said.

Judges will be Dr. Winona Morgan and Mildred Larson, of Pennsylvania State College; Marie C.

Doerman, of New Jersey College of Agriculture and Fannie Woodside, of the Pittsburgh public schools.

SEEKS CIVIC UNITY

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Mayor David L. Lawrence asked his council today to approve a bill to create in his office a "division of civic unity."

The group is designated to promote "amicable cooperation" and relieve tension among racial and religious groups.

Administered by a salaried director and staff, the division would co-operate with the 15-member civic unity council.

William D. Orend, student at the University of Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, has concluded a visit with his mother, Mrs. Anna Orend, of Neshannock avenue.

Miss Evelyn Westcott, Geneva, Pa., has returned after visiting over the week end with Mrs. Elsie Dankerly and family, Rose avenue.

Mrs. J. G. Blanoeh, of Bedford, O., has returned after a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. James, Bell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cooper, Butler road, are spending the winter months in St. Cloud, Fla.

ELLWOOD GIRL BRIDE OF MARINE VETERAN

Miss Ruth G. Bleakney, daughter of Eugene Bleakney, of 617 Todd avenue, Ellwood City, and Jacob D. Holzhauser, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Holzhauser, of 832 Butler avenue, were united in marriage in the First Christian church of Ellwood City at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 30. Rev. A. Homer Jordan officiated in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a rum frappe wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage of brown orchids. As her only attendant her sister, Miss Shirley Bleakney, wore a blue wool dress with brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

William Houck, of this city, was best man. Following the ceremony there was a reception for the families at the home of the bride's father where a three-tiered wedding cake was a feature of the refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Holzhauser left on a motor trip to the southern states and Mexico. On their return they will be at home after December 15 in an apartment on Butler avenue.

Mrs. Holzhauser is a teacher in the Wayne consolidated school and Mr. Holzhauser, who was recently discharged from service with the U. S. Marine Corps, is employed at the Shenango Pottery.

MILESTONE FOR MRS. D. F. BALPH
 Friends of Mrs. D. F. May Balph will be happy to know that she will celebrate her 90th birthday on Wednesday, December 4. The occasion will be observed quietly by the former Park avenue resident who now lives at 703 West Washington street.

Mrs. Balph is the mother of three sons, Irvine A. Balph, of this city; Harold Balph, of Youngstown, O.; and Edward Balph, of Landaur, Ind.

Dorcas Class
 Dorcas class of the Central Christian church will have its Christmas party Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Isaac Davis, 940 Harrison street. Co-hostesses are Mrs. Nell Cromie and Mrs. Christina Shoaff.

READING CIRCLE '91 PROGRAM ON INDIA

Reading Circle '91 met Monday afternoon in regular bi-weekly session in the Y. W. C. A. with Mrs. C. D. Updegraff as hostess. An unusually large attendance answered roll call with "A Quotation From Kipling".

During business, with Dr. Dale Coulter Caldwell presiding, one new member was voted into membership. Two very excellent papers comprised the program, one on "Perplexing India" by Mrs. C. D. Parker, and the other on "Political Parties of India" by Mrs. R. L. Meermans. Group discussion followed.

For the Christmas meeting, December 1, an annual social event for the club, Mrs. Frank Hanna extended an invitation to meet in her home, 305 Northview avenue. She, Mrs. James Morgan and Mrs. Parker are the committee in charge of arrangements.

LEGION AUXILIARY MAKES YULE PLANS

American Legion auxiliary to Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343 met Monday evening in the legion home for a regular business meeting during which plans for the season were completed.

Mrs. Ethel Murphy, child welfare chairman, was authorized to purchase a Christmas gift for the auxiliary's adopted boy at Scotland school; Mrs. Eleanor Wilkins, rehabilitation chairman, was authorized to buy records and cards for the veterans hospitalized at Deshon and was named chairman to make arrangements for a program of entertainment at Deshon during the Christmas season; in addition, the auxiliary voted to send magazine subscriptions to Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals.

Members heard reports of the four-county council meeting in Slippery Rock November 21. Door prize went to Mrs. Edna Headland. A lunch was served by hostesses Mrs. Maude Forrester, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller and Mrs. Tom Boyce.

Next meeting will be a family thirteen dinner at the legion home December 16 at 6:30 p. m. to be followed by a program and treat for the children. Mrs. Worrell Jones, Mrs. Forrester, and Mrs. Ruth Conner were named respectively dining room, kitchen and program chairmen.

Shenango Auxiliary Meeting
 Shenango Fireman auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. John Backus, East New Castle on Friday evening with Mrs. John Maitland as co-hostess.

Plans were completed for a fourteen dinner at Shenango fire station on Friday, December 27, at 6 o'clock. Games were the pastime with prizes going to Mrs. Sam Crible, Mrs. Edna Henderson and Mrs. Edward Dean. Mrs. Martha Houk received a gift from the hostess, Mrs. Matthew Kalsjens was a special guest. Later delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Section B Chance
 Section B of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church will meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. S. T. Hoover, Beckford street, instead of Thursday as previously planned.

Recently the section met in the home of Mrs. Homer Leslie, Huron avenue, when devotionals were led by Mrs. G. G. Orr and plans were made for a Christmas party December 19 at the home of Mrs. Jesse Dufford, 1232 East Washington street. Mrs. William Crane assisted the hostess.

W.I.T.Y. Club Meeting
 Mrs. Ray Nolte, Brooklyn avenue, entertained W.I.T.Y. club members on Monday evening with two tables of bridge in play. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Robert Park, Mrs. Nolte and Betty Haines.

Names were exchanged for the Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Robert Park, Chestnut street, on December 16.

Betty Haines assisted the hostess in serving a luncheon.

Y. L. B. Class
 Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church will have its December meeting this evening at 7:30 in its classroom at the church.

A. B. D. Society Postpones
 A. B. D. society of the First Presbyterian church has postponed its December meeting from this evening until next week.

Happy Relief When You're Sluggish, Upset

WHEN CONSTIPATION makes you feel punk as the dickens, brings on stomach upset, sour taste, gassy discomfort, take Dr. Caldwell's famous medicine to quickly pull the trigger on lazy "inwards" and help you feel bright and chipper again.

DR. CALDWELL'S is the wonderful sena-laxative contained in good old Syrup Pepsin to make it so easy to take.

MANY DOCTORS use pepsin preparations in prescriptions to make the medicine more palatable and agreeable to take. So be sure your laxative is contained in Syrup Pepsin.

INSIST ON DR. CALDWELL'S—the favorite of millions for 50 years, and feel that wholesome relief from constipation. Even finicky children love it.

CAUTION: Use only as directed.

HERSHEY AUXILIARY YULETIDE PROGRAM

Hershey auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church met for its "Christmas Song and Story" program in the parlors of the church Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

It was highlighted by a reading of Margaret Sangster's story "Anniversary" given by Mrs. B. E. Sankey and special music. Mrs. Ira Ramsey was program chairman. For devotionals Mrs. Sankey read the Christmas story from the Book of Luke.

Musical portion of the program opened with a solo by Marguerite Tooley, "Jesu Bambino". She was accompanied by Mrs. John Alexander.

Selections by the Melody Sextette included "Beneath the Southern Skies", "Rise Up Shepherd" and "A Star In Its Cradle".

"Silent Night" was played as a piano solo by Peggy Gilliland. Prayers were led by Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser. Hostesses were Mrs. H. E. Golder, Mrs. A. A. Webb, Mrs. D. W. Morrow, Mrs. George E. MacMillan, Mrs. L. P. Hauschild, Mrs. M. A. Brown, Mrs. R. C. Forrest and Miss Olivia Griffiths.

EPWORTH GROUP ELECT OFFICERS

Group Three of W. S. C. S. of Epworth Methodist church gathered Monday evening in the home of Mrs. N. E. Clark, of Walno.

Officers, elected for the ensuing year, follow: President, Mrs. Mabel Davis; vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Rodgers; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry McCurdy; and treasurer, Mrs. Lloyd Thompson. The president announced plans for activities of the coming year.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Davis, while Mrs. Norman Nelson reviewed "Happiness for Sale", a Christmas story.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Clark, assisted by Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Davis, co-hostesses. A group of friends then met to organize a new club. Big Four has been chosen as a name for the group, with the object being to discuss important current events.

Later daily refreshments were served. They will meet on December 17 with Mrs. Alexander Brincko, Leasure avenue.

TIGERS AUXILIARY PLANS YULE PARTY

Tigers Auxiliary members met Monday evening in their club rooms, South Mill street, and plans for a Christmas party were planned for December 16, in a downtown tea room.

Card playing was the pastime, high score prizes going to Mrs. James Fulemo, Mrs. William Cuhells, Mrs. John DeSantis and Mrs. Nick Sansotti.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Louis Ross and Mrs. Don Rebert, and they served a delicious lunch.

FAIR-NOCCERA WEDDING EVENT

At St. Vitus church, a pretty wedding was solemnized, when Miss Elvira Fair of the Y.W.C.A., Washington street, became the bride of Angelo Nocera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nocera of 106 South Wayne street, on Thanksgiving morning at 9:30.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, the pastor, performed the ceremony, using the single ring service.

The bride was attired in a brown suit with chartreuse accessories. She carried a white prayer book, adorned with baby mums. Matron of honor was Mrs. Lena Santangelo, Louis Palmiero officiated as best man.

A wedding breakfast was given to thirty guests in the home of the groom's parents.

The bride has been employed at the Shenango Pottery plant, and the groom is in the employ of the National Radiator Company plant here.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Cleveland, the couple will reside at 107 Arch street.

DINNER PARTY FOR NEWLYWEDS

Mrs. Walter Dietterle and Mrs. Leon Drumm entertained at a party Saturday evening in the latter's home on West Garfield avenue in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sowers, bride and groom of two weeks.

Yellow mums and matching tapers decorated the attractively arranged table. Mrs. Maude Montgomery assisted the hostess in serving a tasty meal.

Following serving, a lovely gift was presented to the honored couple in behalf of the group. Informal diversions occupied the remaining hours of the evening.

HARLANSBURG CLUB PLANS LUNCHEON

MINERS' HEAD AND U. M. W. GUILTY OF CONTEMPT OF COURT

that the UMW leader would be present when court is convened tomorrow.

The judge permitted Lewis to remain in his counsel's custody after asking Sonnet whether he believed Lewis should be held under bond.

Sentence Is Vaguely Important
 Goldsborough in adjoining court stated:

"The matter of sentence of course is very important, and while it is somewhat unusual the court would like the views of defense counsel and government counsel as to what sentence should be imposed".

Goldsborough had announced that he would find Lewis guilty before formally declaring his verdict.

The contempt verdict resulted from Lewis' refusal to obey the temporary restraining order issued by Judge Goldsborough Nov. 18, directing withdrawal of a notice terminating the United Mine Workers wage agreement with the government.

Lewis, silent throughout five days of court proceedings, arose and made his statement to the court after Goldsborough had signified his intention of finding the defendants guilty.

Says Unions Exempted
 The UMW president asserted that under the law labor unions are specifically exempted from injunctions and court orders.

Lewis charged that the court granted the injunction requiring withdrawal of the walkout notice "without notice and without a hearing".

Lewis asserted "there is a federal constitution binding upon all—even the government—a constitution which guarantees to miners as to all freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, and freedom from involuntary servitude".

His voice rising, Lewis said: "You sir, I respectfully submit, have deprived the miners of their constitutional rights. As a citizen, the miners and I stand upon our rights guaranteed in the constitution."

"This is labor's traditional position," He continued:

"I cannot by action or inaction subscribe to the rude recrudescence of government by injunction nor can I adopt a course which will amount to a betrayal of the miners' constitutional rights as citizens".

Decision Is From Evidence
 The UMW leader began his dramatic statement after his chief counsel, Joseph A. Padway, asked if the court intended to find Lewis guilty of contempt and Judge Goldsborough replied, "That's right".

Goldsborough declared that the findings of fact presented by the government "are arrived at from the evidence" and added that "from the evidence the conclusions of law are inevitable".

Padway observed that the next thing for the court to do was to pass sentence and the judge replied that was so but Lewis then was given the opportunity to break his silence.

Lewis contended that the Clayton and Norris-LaGuardia Acts provide "that no court of the United States shall have the jurisdiction to issue any restraining order or temporary or permanent injunction in a case involving or growing out of a labor dispute".

He asserted that the coal issue was "nothing else but a labor dispute".

Lewis recited the events leading up to his termination of the union's contract with the government, which took possession of the coal mines last May.

Miss Hinda Kohn, has concluded her Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Park avenue, and has resumed her studies at the University of Pittsburgh.

Houseguests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Park avenue, for Thanksgiving, were Larry Treff and Al Horvitz, of New York, students at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. James Emerick and children, Allan and Patricia Ann, have returned to their home in Dayton, O., after spending the Thanksgiving holiday season with Mr. Emerick's mother, Mrs. Hanna Raub Northview avenue.

Grand Jury Is Now In Session

Sixteen Bills Of Indictment
Considered By Members
Of Grand Jury

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Sixteen bills of indictment were presented to the December grand jury which met Monday in Court Room Number One. Of the sixteen it is likely some will be returned "not a true bill" others will be returned "true bills." It is probable that the criminal court which meets Monday, December 8, will see but a few cases tried.

Following the charge of the court Monday morning, Frank B. Kaufman of Wilmington township was named foreman. With the exception of two cases the usual run of mine charges are found in the bills of indictment. The case of Frank Maccia, charged with involuntary manslaughter will be tried again after getting a hung jury in September. The other case of importance is that against Joseph Coppel charged with having held up and robbed the store of Robert Barnes some time ago.

VANCE MARKS BIRTHDAY
The eleventh birthday of Clifford L. Vance as court crier was marked Monday morning in court. Judge John G. Lamoree took time out from court duties to commend Mr. Vance for eleven years of efficient service as court crier and Mr. Vance received congratulations from other court attendants.

In the eleven years he has served Mr. Vance has done his job well, but at all times his service has been marked by courtesy and thoughtfulness. Punctuality is a fetish with him and when a job is to be done it is done well.

DIVORCES GRANTED
Judge W. Walter Braham has granted divorces to Lillie Mae Myers from Herbert Myers and to Dorothy Belle Cole from Jack William Cole.

EQUITY SUIT HEARD
Before Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree Monday morning the equity suit of the City of New Castle against the County of Lawrence and the New Castle school district was heard.

The case is that in which the county sold some lots on Taylor street for delinquent taxes. The city claimed the lots were the property of the city but the county found some taxes unpaid before the city took title to them from the old Harmony company.

It is the city's intention that the lots be needed for the widening of the street which is now a by-pass for Route 422.

REPUBLICAN OFFICIAL VISITS
Ezra P. Whittle, of Cour de Alene, Idaho, vice chairman of the National committee of the Republican party, was a visitor in the court house Monday. He is a cousin of Judge and Mrs. W. Walter Braham.

Like every other Republican official he is delighted with the returns of November 5 but feels that a grave responsibility has been placed upon the party. "We hear various criticisms upon what course the Republican congress will take in the next two years," said he. "One group argue that some of the new congressmen will run away with the legislative program and attempt to enact restrictive legislation. Another group charges the forces of reaction will rule. Neither criticism is just."

"Republican leadership is concerned first with the welfare of the United States," said he. "This is bigger than any partisan issue or policy. There will be changes of course, and they are long overdue. But to suggest that the Republican congress is going to pass legislation that would be restrictive or reactionary is foolish. The job ahead is to get the United States upon a sound governmental basis. In doing this the party needs the co-operation of all the people."

Reports To Police He Was Robbed Of $7,043 By Gunman

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Police today investigated the story of a 50-year-old barber who told them he was kidnapped on his way to a bank and robbed of $7,043 which he had received through the sale of his home.

The victim, Harry Deangelis, said he alighted from a trolley car when a gunman approached him and forced him into a car containing a confederate.

They drove him around several blocks, taking the money from his pockets during the course of the ride, then hurled him from the car, he said.

Deangelis said he suffered a heart attack as he rolled in the street. He staggered to the pavement, where he was aided by an unidentified passerby. Police took him to the Frankford hospital.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

only the late Dies committee but the FBI has disclosed that certain Departments of the government employ Communists in more or less strategic positions. There has never been serious investigation of the charges publicly made by former Ambassador Hurley that Communist influence in the State Department made themselves felt in our relations with the recognized Chinese government. Certainly it is not "red-baiting" but plain self-preservation to insist that the government cease supporting red infiltrators from the Federal Treasury.

Considering the limited number of Americans permitted entry to Russia, for example, and the rigid restrictions placed on their movements, it would be only a matter of simple fairness to place such limitations and restrictions on Russian nationals entering this country. This could not reasonably be construed as a matter of discrimination, but merely as a matter of equality.

A present danger to the United States is the seeming apathy of the people and the government to the steady boring-from-within activities of Red agents. Sound Americans should insist that there be no toleration of Communist promotion in this country.

HEARING AGAINST UMW IN RICHMOND DELAYED 11 DAYS

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 3.—(INS)—A hearing before the State Corporation Commission on charges that John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers violated the Virginia "Blue Sky" laws was adjourned Monday until Dec. 13.

Lewis was represented at today's proceedings by Gordon B. Ambler, former mayor of Richmond.

The Richmond Better Business Bureau charged that Lewis and the miners violated state laws by "selling" memberships in the union without having a representative appointed by the secretary of state.

SETTING THE TABLE
"Please give me instructions in your column on setting the table."
Answer: All silver is placed on the table in the order in which it is to be used, working from the outside in toward the plate.

Place knives and spoons to the right of the plate, forks to the left, with the exception of the sea-food fork which may be placed to the extreme right—so that it is the first piece of silver on the right. For instance: If the meal begins with a fruit cup, the spoon for that is placed to the extreme right, the soup or bouillon spoon next. Then comes the fish or entree knife (if you will serve that course), next the meat knife. The sharp edge of the knives is always placed toward the plate.

On the extreme left of the plate, place the first fork to be used—the fish or entree. Then the meat fork; third the salad fork. Three deep is the usual limit on each side, although if an entree is served, there may be four on each side. Additional silver should be brought in with its own course.

The water glasses should stand to the right of the plate, just above the knives. Goblets should be used for dinner service; tumblers may be used for breakfast and luncheon.

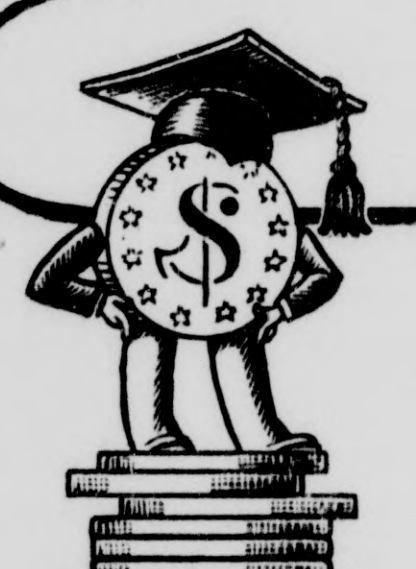

At a formal dinner, if wine is served, the glasses should stand in a straight line to the right of the water goblet.

Busy, dizzy Mrs. Brodie!

No, this isn't a new kind of toy.

It's merely Mrs. Brodie, after a few hectic days of Christmas shopping.

"I'm simply whirling around like a top!" moans Mrs. Brodie. "I wish there was a way to shop without stirring up of the house. My feet are KILLING me! And I'm afraid I've fractured my budget!"

Well, there's one item Mrs. Brodie doesn't have to shop for—that's electricity!

It comes to her special delivery, without effort or waiting. She has only to flip a switch, and electric power is right on hand in any quantity she needs.

Electricity is easy on Mrs. Brodie's budget, too. For a few pennies, her electric range will cook dinner for her while she shops. She can rest her feet and listen to the radio all evening for another penny. Mr. Brodie has no complaint, either. A couple of cents worth of electricity (and Mrs. Brodie) will iron a whole week's supply of his shirts.

Busy, dizzy Mrs. Brodie! But this wild holiday fervor comes only once a year. And she enjoys helpful, dependable electricity—at low cost—all year round. So do you. The practical planning of the friendly folks in this company—under sound business management—makes that possible.

Need $823,470.15 To Run City Next Year

Having ended several weeks of hard work to keep the tax rate at 13 mills, council has announced estimates of what taxpayers will be required to pay for the operation of the city next year. The council has posted the proposed budget in the office of City Clerk Jack Fritz, second floor, city building, which will be open to public view for 20 days, after which it will be presented in the form of a bill, then enacted into ordinance on the first Monday of January.

Calls For $823,470.15
The budget calls for $762,594.55 for operation and maintenance including salaries, and $60,875.60 for new equipment, and $500 for debt service, or a total of $823,470.15. No provision was made in the budget for any increase in wage although firemen, street workers and police asked for a raise. Included in the capital outlay is an amount for the payment of four police, which will bring the quota called for by ordinance up to 48. For some time, the department has been short four men.

The budget figures show estimated needs, to be derived, from a tax levy of 13 mills, as follows:

Needs For Year
General operating funds, $104,447.21 of which $2,080.93 is used for motor equipment in the electric bureau.

Protection of persons and property (fire and police departments) $331,286.21, of which $28,101.21 will be used for motor equipment, traffic signals, parking meters, four police and other equipment.

Health and sanitation, $122,270.42, of which the capital outlay is $5,132.22, needed for sewers and disposal plant improvements.

Highways, $158,648.71, of which $9,791.45 capital outlay will be spent as follows: Parks and playgrounds, $1,361.45; Cascade Park pool repairs, $1,400 and black-topping of the entrance to Cascade Park, $3,000.

There will be needed for miscellaneous purposes, $33,875.80 and for debt service, $500.

The budget for 1946 amounted to $748,835.

The increase to $823,470.15, for 1947, comes as a result of two salary increases to city employees this year, plus more money being required for capital outlay in 1947. It was explained by council. However, the tax millage will be kept 13 mills. The assessed valuation for 1946 was $52,285,450, but will be slightly higher for 1947.

Ministers Hear Of Church Work Done At Penitentiary

Rev. A. W. Stremel Gives Enlightening Address Of Spiritual Work At Western Penitentiary

Members of the New Castle Ministerial association, as they met for the bi-weekly meeting in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson at Falls street, Monday, heard a most enlightening and instructive address by Rev. A. W. Stremel, Protestant chaplain at Western Penitentiary, Allegheny county, on the spiritual work that is being done among the 1200 prisoners of the institution.

"No man unless he has a change of heart" will go out of the prison corrected, stated Rev. Stremel, "and this has been proven in countless instances, when those who refused to attend the church services have been returned to the prison in six months or less time."

Chaplain Stremel, told of the diverse work that is being accomplished at the prison work shop, including the educational, rehabilitation, and musical work. Prisoners earn from 50 cents to 10 cents a day for their work.

Building of the second chapel within the confines of any prison grounds in the United States was told, at a cost of only $100 to the state of Pennsylvania. There are 126 charter members in the church which by the way, is the only organized prison congregation in the United States. The church boasts a membership of 1300 members, with many having already been released from prison.

The morning session of the association was under the direction of president Rev. A. E. Simon, with Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, leading the devotions.

Announcement was made that Rev. J. L. McFarland would be in charge of the ministers' radio program on December 15. Results of the offerings lifted on Thanksgiving Day, were made known. $300 was realized for use of the chaplain at the Lawrence County Home.

Rhythm Band Busy At Rose Avenue

The music department of the Rose avenue grade school is quite a busy place with almost all the older pupils of the department either playing in the large rhythm band or a member of the school chorus.

Miss Mildred Gresham, teacher of music and other subjects, reports that at present there are 63 students enrolled in the rhythm band. The boys and girls participate in the various school programs that are presented from time to time before the entire student body. Extensive plans are under way for the annual Christmas program of the school.

Rose avenue school boasts one of the best attendance averages in the city. Principal John Cornelius reports, Monday's report of 18 students absent out of the enrollment of 310 was unusually high, the principal stated.

Rotarians Will Be Guests Of Farmers

Annual Dinner For Rotary Members Will Take Place At East Brook High Next Week

Members of the New Castle Rotary club accepted the invitation of Lawrence County farmers to be their guests at a dinner in East Brook high school, Thursday evening, December 12, the decision being made at the weekly luncheon meeting of the club in The Castle-ton, Monday noon.

Vice President Richard E. Rentz presided at a snappy business session, when other events of moment were discussed. The club voted to assist the Rotary Arms with their annual Christmas party for the crippled children.

The birthdays of nine members of the club was commemorated, with buttonhole bouquets being presented the honored ones.

Refuses Freedom For Second Time

SAN QUESTIN, Cal., Dec. 3.—(INS)—State prison officials admitted today there is not much they can do to force 72-year-old Antonio DiTardo to leave San Quentin prison.

For the second time, DiTardo has turned down an offer of parole and there appeared to be no state law forcing a man to accept parole against his will.

DiTardo was sentenced to a life term in 1929 for the slaying of his wife near San Jose, Cal. Following his capture he repeatedly attempted suicide by stabbing himself and swallowing creosote.

Guards who asked DiTardo why he had turned down parole quoted him as replying:

"I got anybody. Here, I treat everybody good. They treat me good. Here, I like it. I stay."

SHENANGO CLASS OF FIFTH GRADE GIVES PROGRAM

Shenango Consolidated school's fifth grade presented a November program, marking the end of the first part of the holiday season last week.

Directed by Mrs. Helen Bishop and Mrs. Olga Lazar, with music by Miss Leola Rowe, the program had songs and recitations by:

Barbara Fraser, Eleanor Benson, Shirley Reno, Ruth Guckeyson, Kay Friend, Carolyn Thompson, John Peluso, Thomas Van Horn, Allen Thompson, Dale Fell, Ernest Rice, Barbara Maxwell, Gerald Miller, Gerald Purdie, Peggy White, Robert Waring, John Peterson, Selma Morris, Alfred Pearson, Bonnie Bessell, and other groups from both Mrs. Bishop's and Mrs. Lazar's rooms.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Engineers To Have Christmas Party

Dinner And Entertainment Scheduled For Monthly Meeting Monday Evening

Next Monday evening's meeting of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers society will be in the form of a Christmas party, with a variety of entertainment offered. There will be a good dinner at 7 o'clock, followed by a sound color film, "Building a tire".

Then Santa Claus will arrive with a sack full of gifts for the members, chief of which will be a 15-pound turkey for the fellow who is luckiest on the draw, along with other entertainment which President Dingledy states will cause sorrow if missed.

Youthful Deer Hunter Killed

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—The first victim of 1946 deer season near Wilkes-Barre was reported Monday after Joseph Brazauskas Jr. of Edwardsville, 25-year-old veteran, was shot fatally while hunting with his father and an uncle in lower Luzerne county. Brazauskas, a student at Bucknell Junior college, was walking ahead of his hunting companions when a gun was discharged accidentally and the slug penetrated his head, according to Deputy Coroner A. M. Kocher. Responsibility for the accident had not been fixed, he added.

HUNTER KILLED

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—The Fayette county coroner's office reported today that Donald Shaw, 26, of Uniontown was shot and killed during a hunting trip when Edward J. Eddenfield, 32, of Meadowbrook mistook him for a deer.

JOHNSTOWN — Frank Rovida's forgetfulness paid off when thieves entered his unlocked store and carried off a locked cash box containing $182. Police found the box unopened and no signs of any attempt to force the lock.

Young Woman Leaves For Big Game Hunt

Generally during hunting season, it's the men folk who go out in quest of big game but now and then we run across one or two of the opposite sex who are not afraid to don their hunting attire and get right out with the rest of them to get their share of the outdoors and the ravenous appetite that such primitive living brings.

Miss Lois McIlrath, R. D. No. 1, is among the latter class, as she and her dad and brother with a number of other hunters set out on Sunday for the deer country up in around the Kane area which is noted for its many deer and bear.

On Third Expedition
Even though she is only five foot three inches tall, 120 pounds and 19 years old, Miss McIlrath, is on her third expedition to the big game country and is fully expecting to bring down a buck before she returns.

Lois is following in the footsteps of her older sister, Mrs. Dorothy Kalajainen, who was prevented from going deer hunting this year due to a recent operation. Mrs. Kalajainen has made the trip for the past five years.

Included in the party that made the trip were: Charles McIlrath, Howard McIlrath, R. D. No. 1; Aaron Blews, Sr., Paul and Glen Blews, R. D. No. 5 and Arnold Blews, R. D. No. 1. The party expects to return to the city on Wednesday.

Santa Claus Aides Are Busy Shopping

Santa never forgets, even when he is being as discriminating as he is this year.

And he is really being discriminating this year. He is judging quality carefully, say local merchants who have to deal with him.

His agents, the mothers and fathers, nieces and nephews, boy friends and girl friends who go around buying presents for Santa—are on the job in full force.

They are mobbing the stores, but they aren't buying just anything. Last year any sort of gadget which could be termed "a Christmas gift" could be sold, because people saw little chance of anything better being available for a long time.

This year, people know that more and better merchandise is on the way, so they are hesitant unless they see things they think are really practical.

They are buying household goods items which have been scarce for a long time, such as pressure cookers, toasters, irons and waffle irons.

They are buying nice robes if they see them, going especially for the 100 per cent wool ones. They are buying underwear—because it is both necessary and medium priced. Also pretty, feminine underthings always have gift appeal.

Jewelry is really selling too, costume jewelry going fast in the department stores, and valuable gold, silver and jeweled pieces being laid away in the jewelry stores.

Gadgets aren't selling. Novelties haven't much appeal. Few gifts this year will be the kind that are stored away until mother's Sunday school class has a rummage sale.

Children's clothes and toys naturally are selling well. Santa always has his best eye open for the youngsters.

And among the counters doing the most business are the ones selling Christmas napkins, paper plates, table decorations and candles—all the equipment for Christmas parties. Someone is going to have fun.

Flint Landlords Authorized To Increase Rents

FLINT, Mich., Dec. 3.—(INS)—Flint, Mich., landlords were authorized today to raise their rents 10 and 15 per cent.

The city commission voted 6 to 3 in favor of a 10 per cent boost where the tenant provides heat and 15 per cent where the owner supplies the fuel.

The new ruling was passed in the form of an amendment to the city's rent control ordinance passed March, 1942. Under the 1942 measure, all rent control matters were handled by the municipal courts, including requests for evictions and rent increases.

Flint was one of the first cities in the nation to adopt such a law. Many other communities later passed similar laws using the Flint ordinance as a model.

Legion Of Honor To Meet Thursday

Final plans for the big Family Night Christmas party of the Legion of Honor, of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, will be made at the semi-monthly meeting of the organization in The Cathedral, Thursday evening, it was announced today by Commander Carl E. Turner.

Reports on recent activities will also be given at this meeting.

It has been computed that a young woman of 20 years has a 2-1 chance of marriage, while at the age of 30 her chance is 1-to-12.

Icelandic Singers At Cathedral Tonight

Singers From Land Of Midnight Sun To Appear For Second Guild Concert

Up until World War Two, Iceland was a land of mystery, a land known to most of us about as well as Timbuctoo or the lost continent of Atlantis. But World War Two changed all that. American soldiers were stationed in Iceland, they met the people, learned to know them and brought up to date facts which had been historically correct for centuries.

One thing the Yanks learned was that the Icelanders love music and do a lot of group singing. Hence it was natural to invite a chorus of the Icelanders to the United States for a concert tour this year and just as natural that New Castle should be one of the 55 cities in the United States to get them.

The Icelandic Singers will be in the Cathedral tonight for the second concert of the Metropolitan Concert Guild. Their appearance in other cities has been a musical treat and New Castle music lovers are looking forward to tonight's concert.

The doors open at 7:30 and it is suggested that members be in their seats at least ten minutes before curtain time. The concert starts at 8:30.

OH SUGAR

The scarcity of sugar makes people think more about it. Sugar is very nutritious and a valuable food. Sometimes we hear people speak of "natural" sugars. They usually mean honey or maple sugar. People who have diabetes sometimes believe that "natural" sugars are different from granulated sugar and may be eaten with safety. For a diabetic all sugars are alike. Cane sugar, beet sugar, honey, sorghum, grape sugar, molasses, maple syrup, corn syrup and all other sugars act in the same way. Honey is a palatable and nutritious food but it is not any safer for a diabetic than cane sugar. For a diabetic, sugar is sugar. Oh, sugar.

Two Appear In Council On Bus Service In City

George Dwyer, Croton avenue, complained to council Monday that men who work at the National Radiator and who reside in Croton are required to walk from downtown to Croton when the last bus from the East Side fails to connect with the last bus which leaves downtown for Croton. He maintained that the Croton bus does not wait for the incoming bus from the East Side.

Daniel Treloar appeared before council and asked the status of the proposed new route of a bus from Wilmington avenue via Euclid avenue south on Mercer street thence west through Garfield avenue into Wilmington avenue.

Council said that the company had agreed to the move but so far they did not know if an application to the PUC had been made for the change.

Treloar said that the company could procure this service providing the company filed a notice of intent with the PUC. As a result of the two complaints bus officials will be asked to confer with council.

The council, it was explained, proposed several additions or changes in bus routes here.

Identify Body Of Woman Found On Railroad Tracks

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The mangled body of the young woman found on the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in Pittsburgh today was identified as that of Mrs. Martha D. Pellegrino, 26, wife of Clement Pellegrino, an Air Corps combat veteran.

The couple had been married last May after a seven-year courtship.

Pellegrino told Pittsburgh police he and his wife quarrelled when she refused to press his trousers, adding:

"Several occasions since our marriage, my wife had threatened to end her life by leaping in front of an automobile."

Police said they were satisfied that the death was probably a suicide, but added that an investigation would be conducted.

Alumni Will Attend Westminster Dance In Cathedral Friday

New Castle alumni of Westminster college will be among those attending the school's "dance of the year" in the Cathedral ballroom Friday evening.

For the first time in the history of the school, students are financing one of the big name bands of the country.

Sponsored by Student Council, the dance is being financed by money contributed to a bonfire before the Geneva-Westminster game. Although they had no guarantee that they would get their money back, students gave sums ranging from $25 to $200. If the dance is a success, they will receive their investment plus interest, and if money is lost, they will share the loss in proportion to their contributions.

The dance is formal.

Admiral Byrd Bids Farewell To Arctic Force

Famous Polar Explorer Will Join Expedition Later
To Map Uncharted
Wastes

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 3.—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd said "Godspeed" Monday to the Navy's giant Antarctic expedition which sailed for South Polar regions.

Byrd, the Nation's No. 1 Polar explorer, under whose command the expedition will plot and map hitherto unpenetrated reaches of the Antarctic continent, will sail aboard the aircraft carrier Philippine Sea January 2.

The admiral flew from Washington for a last-minute inspection of the "Operation High Jump" vanguard and expressed himself as well satisfied with all preparations.

Earlier, Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen, operational commander of the force, disclosed that Geiger counters, used to detect atomic radiation, are included in the expedition's equipment.

But Cruzen, mindful of the Navy's assertion that a search for uranium is not a primary purpose of the Polar trek, declared at a news conference aboard the flagship Mount Olympus:

"The Geiger counters are being taken along to measure cosmic rays as much as anything else."

May Alter Plans

Cruzen said that there is a strong possibility the expedition will be unable to reach Little America, Byrd's base in the last previous Antarctic exploration, because of changes in the face of the main ice pack. He added:

"If that proves to be the case we will set up an alternate base camp at Discovery Bay."

Units of the expedition are sailing simultaneously today from Norfolk and from San Diego and Port Hueneme, on the West Coast. They will rendezvous off Panama.

Cruzen revealed that the Philippine Sea will operate from 300 to 400 miles north of the Polar ice pack.

Personnel and supplies will be transported from the carrier to the base in Douglas R4D twin-engine aircraft, which are regarded as "expendable." No attempt will be made to return the big planes to their mother ship.

Rescue System

The admiral said that an elaborate air-sea rescue system has been set up, with provisions made to fly husky dogs, sleds and food and medical equipment to personnel who might become lost while attempting to map the region.

The long-range seaplanes and ice-based transportation used by the expedition will carry every conceivable type of equipment to detect mineral resources.

Scientists in the expedition expect to find "plenty" of uranium, primary source of atomic energy.

Today's departure scene was highly dramatic, with wives and sweethearts of the explorers permitted aboard the vessels for farewells and the deep-throated barking of the huskies booming over the noise of last-minute preparations.

Storm warnings were displayed along the Atlantic coast and it was evident that the Polar ships would head into icy seas, giving members of the expedition a foretaste of what they can expect during their three months in the Antarctic.

Committee Tours Japan In Project To Control Pacific

House Naval Group Wants U. S.
Grip In East; Claim 'This Is Our Ocean'

TOKYO, Dec. 3.—(INS)—A house naval subcommittee continued to tour Japan with preliminary recommendations for United States control of the Pacific already made public.

Ed. V. Izac, California Democrat and spokesman for the group, called for American domination of the Pacific at a Tokyo news conference with the pronouncement:

"This is definitely our ocean."

Izac and his colleague will make recommendations for the navy's post-war role in the Pacific and one of the first changes they suggested was a civil administration for mandated islands to replace current and past military control.

Izac suggested that a "separate new agency reporting directly to the president" be set up for American-controlled islands.

The California congressman declared:

"It must be evident to representatives of other nations that we are the only nation with the resources to administer these islands. These are definitely our islands."

Other members of the group concurred with Izac and stated that past experience showed that joint administration of Pacific islands "didn't work."

The five-man group lunched with General MacArthur Sunday and agreed that the supreme allied commander is "doing an excellent job on the occupation" of Japan. They declared that there was no evident resentment among Japanese against the occupation.

Portal-To-Portal Pay Plan Sought By USW Officials

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Close on the heels of CIO President Philip Murray's announcement that the United Steelworkers will "go all out" for higher wages, USW officials have disclosed they will seek portal-to-portal pay for their members.

Nine major steel producers in the Pittsburgh area were marked for the portal demand when negotiations reopen on the steelworkers contract. The program was outlined to leaders of 65 locals meeting in Pittsburgh over the weekend.

Meanwhile, a CIO spokesman said the USW's new wage demands probably would not be made until the union's wage-policy committee meetings later this month.
In his speech to CIO leaders Saturday night, Murray declared that the average steelworker's pay has dropped $13.04 a week since the 18 1/2 cent-an-hour increase was granted last February.

Murray told his aides that the CIO would "go all out" for increased wages when contract negotiations reopen.

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Hard To Beat

Very Easy To Make. No Cooking. Saves Big Money.
No matter what you've been using for coughs due to colds, you'll be the first to admit that this surprising relief, mixed in your own kitchen, is hard to beat, for real results.
Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of air passages. Loose mucus and dis-granulated sugar and one cup of fruit breathing, and let's you sleep, water a few moments, until dissolved. Once tried, you'll swear by it.
No cooking is needed—a child could do it. Or you can use corn syrup or proven ingredients, in concentrated liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup form, a most reliable soothing agent. Then put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (oil-for throat and bronchial irritations, tamed from any draught) into a pint just try it, and if not satisfied, your bottle, and fill up with your syrup, money will be refunded.

Controversy Rages Over Alleged "Short Count" Given Navy

Navy Fans Are 'Squawking' On Remaining Play

Commissioner Of Eastern Athletics Bushnell Upholds Officials Of Game

SUGGEST CHANGES REGARDING PLAY

By LESS CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Philadelphia story (last Saturday's) sprouted several offshoots today.
The controversy started with Navy's contention that the clock should have been stopped on two occasions after the Midshipmen, trailing 21 to 18, got a first down on Army's three-yard line with only a minute and a half of play remaining. As it was, time ran out on the Sailors after they had gotten only three cracks at the goal line instead of four.

Criticism Unleashed For
Asa Bushnell, commissioner of Eastern Intercollegiate Athletics, retorted that the real "rank injustice" in the case was not Navy's hard luck, but the "unleashed" criticism of his officials.

Football players, not the clock, decided the game, according to Bushnell. Speaking of the incident from his official report, he said the officials made no mistakes.

As usual, it takes a national spectacle to focus attention on the need for a change in football rules. All hands were prompt to admit today that something should be done to eliminate such a confusing situation as marred the dying moments of the superb service classic.

Suggests New Plan
One possible cure was revived by Bernie Bierman, who advocated his pet plan, approved by Lou Little, Andy Kerr and other coaches, of doing away with clocks entirely. He suggests 40 plays a quarter rather than 15-minute quarters, to get away from all the confusion.

A modified version of Bierman's idea also was revived. This plan calls for the rules-makers to throw away the clock for the final two minutes of each half, and finish up with six legal plays.

Under either of these two plans Navy would have known Saturday just how many plays it had left, and might have scored another touchdown to put over the upset of the ages.

Out-of-Bounds

Navy's first squawk was that Pistol Pete Williams, on what turned out to be the final play of the game, went out of bounds and that as a result, the clock should have been stopped. Bushnell, reviewing the game, insisted that Williams was downed about two yards in from the sideline.

Navy's second contention was that the clock should have been stopped a second later when Coach Tom Hamilton sent a substitute running on the field. The sub didn't make it in time.

Bushnell admitted perhaps the substitute should have been seen by the officials as he rushed in. He added, however, that it wasn't physically possible for Navy to have gotten in another play even if the sub had succeeded in getting the time-out. He said Navy would not have had time for another play because under the present rule, time starts again, not when the ball is snapped, but when play is ready to begin.

Pulaskis Schedule Westminster Quint For Game Tonight

The K. Pulaski "Big Five" basketball team has carded the Westminster Collegians for a game tonight at the K. P. hall at 8 o'clock. It was announced by Coach Al Gonet through Teddy Kucharski the business manager.

Sunday the K. Pulaskis lost a tough one at Ellwood City, 41 to 39. Bushnell, speaking of the incident from his official report, he said the officials made no mistakes.

As usual, it takes a national spectacle to focus attention on the need for a change in football rules. All hands were prompt to admit today that something should be done to eliminate such a confusing situation as marred the dying moments of the superb service classic.

All-East Team Picked By INS

Pat Robinson Places Five Army Players On First All-East Team

By PAT ROBINSON
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—We knew we would never be able to please everybody in picking an All-East football team. So we conscientiously interviewed coaches, scouts and even players of various colleges to help us arrive at an honest decision.

One coach laughingly remarked: "Why not pick the whole Army first team and let it go at that?" And, indeed, we were tempted to do just that.

Five Army Men
But after a long process of elimination we finally reached the conclusion that we simply could not get away from five Army men no matter how we tried.

On the other hand, there were others who pressed them so closely for top honors it seems a shame not to lump them all together.

We think the non-army men we have named could have made the Army team or Notre Dame or any other team. These lads come from teams not as good as Army's but individually they were standouts throughout most of the season.

Slovak's Great End
Bill Swackel of Columbia can do anything required of a great end, Jim Carrington of Navy and Frank Wydo of Cornell are about as powerful a pair of tackles as you may find anywhere. Joe Steffy of Army probably will be not only an All-East but an All-American guard and his running mate, Fritz Barzilaukas of Yale, may be the strongest football player in the land. Penn's giant roving center, Chuck Bednarik, is a whale any way you take him.

As for the others, Army's end, Henry Foldberg and the backs, Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard are of All-America caliber and if given a chance to run with them, Yales Levi Jackson would be explosively destructive as a ton of TNT.

Baseball Conflab Open On Coast

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—(INS)—After 24 hours of hand-shaking and back-slapping, nearly 2,000 mounds attending the annual major-minor baseball conflab turned to serious business today.

The hottest battle on the baseball horizon still concerned the Pacific Coast circuit's demands that it be recognized as a bonifide third major league.

Emerging from a heated week-end huddle, bosses of the Coast loop displayed a resolution—which they will submit Thursday to the major league potentates—requesting "immediate acceptance of the group as a full-fledged third major league."

CHARGE FALSE REPORTS
HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—(INS)—L. S. Fry of Mercersburg, a Franklin county quarry operator, had an order today from federal court at Harrisburg to pay a $2,000 fine after pleading nolle contendere to an indictment alleging violations of the federal false reports act.

The indictments alleged Fry had made false statements to the wage and hour division of the U. S. department of labor claiming he paid $1279.18 to nine present and former employees as required by the fair labor standards act.

Armitage Meets Archer Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Jackie Armitage, promising New Kensington, Pa., boxer, tonight will attempt to climb another rung in the welterweight ladder when he meets Freddie Archer of Newark, N. J., in one of two round features at the Gardens in Pittsburgh.

In the second bout of the co-feature, Gene Burton, classy New York puncher, will be matched against Bee Bee Wright of Clairton, Pa.

Archer was rated a 12.5 favorite over the less experienced but fast-developing Armitage. The Burton-Wright match was placed on even terms.

Eight of Allegheny college's 15 basketball foes this winter will represent out-of-state colleges.

Sabotin Beats Rudy Williams

Akron Boxer "Subs" For Komolo Who Is Kept Away By Icy Roads

GILLESPIE AND BRADLEY WIN

Approximately 500 fans braved severe weather last night to see the eight-bout amateur fistie show staged by the Jefferson A. C. in The Arena. Because of icy roads National Middleweight AAU Champion Johnny Komolo and several Pittsburgh boxers were unable to appear, hence Rudy Williams, Akron, substituted against Lallo Sabotin, Warren, O., and was decisively in a good three-round fight.

Sabotin was too ring-wise and fast for the Akronite, who tried hard but was unable to ward off Sabotin's fast left which was his best punch. Sabotin received the decision of the referee and both judges. They weighed 160.

One of the best bouts on the card was the seventh, with Pete Misto, veteran of the ring taking the decision over Vic Kondick of Akron in the 145-pound class. Misto was too wise for Kondick. Misto got all three votes.

Gillespie Wins Decision
Lester Leasure of New Castle and Jim Gillespie, Akron, 140-pound class, fought a third time with Gillespie getting the decision of Referee Ray Leychack after the judges split on a verdict. This was one of the best bouts on the card. Both boys punched hard and tried for a knockout. Leasure won the first bout by a TKO and took the decision in the second bout.

Bill Bradley of New Castle won his second bout in the Arena by decisioning Frankie Wooten of Youngstown in the 160-pound class. After a slow first round, both swung lots of leather in the second. Wooten rocked Bradley with a stiff right then went for a "bicycle ride". Bradley was the aggressor the rest of the way. Bradley had the Ohioan in bad shape in the third round but could not put him away. Bradley got all three votes.

Other Results
First bout—Jim Carlicko, Youngstown, won over Bob Gifford of Youngstown, 130 pounds.
Second bout—Don D'Marinos of Youngstown won over Rocky Stone of Youngstown, 135 pounds.
Third bout—Dave Kuhn of Warren won over Carl Zoba, Warren, O., 110 pounds.

Fourth bout—Rip Harris, Youngstown, won over Skuskie Harris, Warren, 120 pounds.
Ray Leyschack, Sharon, refereed. The judges were Harry Davis and Steve DeNucci, timekeeper, Humbert Fuzzone, and announcer, Charles Walther.

Allegheny college enters its second half-century of basketball this winter with a record of 420 victories, 251 defeats and two ties for an average of 626.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

LAST QUARTERLY meeting of the northwest division, Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen will be held at 2 p. m. December 15, at Sharon. No doubt the Lawrence County Sportsman's council will be represented. With snow already blanketing the ground it is hoped to have the mayor's recreation committee for rink at Maining avenue in condition when ice arrives.

Bishopville, S. C., hometown of Doc Blanchard, has 3,000 inhabitants and hopes to stage a "bowl" game there, with Blanchard, Tucker and Davis as officials. One hundred and 14 persons attended the Lawrence County Baseball league dinner, in honor of the Wampum Legion, loop champs, at which Honus Wagner, was the guest speaker. First time Here & There met Wagner was in 1909 and upon several occasions at our request he has come here and "once-overed" prospects. Six Irish horses which were flown to Arcadia, Calif., suffered no ill effects from their air voyage.

Russell Baxter, middleweight, and Frankie Moran, lightweight, are in New York. They flew there Saturday. Mickie Solomon was scheduled to deer hunting Monday but postponed his trip to the big woods until this morning so he could second Bill Bradley last night in The Arena. Coach J. A. Brown of Idaho U. has resigned. His team won one and lost 11 games. Frank Snyder, former catcher for the Toledo Giants, has replaced Getore as manager of the Toledo Mudhens. First Lieutenant John R. Cullen, Greenville, was the guest of War Secretary Robert Patterson at the Army-Navy thriller. Hunters should use care after they put a deer down. It may not be sure it is dead, fire a bullet into the region of its heart to keep it from rearing up to attack the hunter. Twenty thousands fans attended the Loyola vs. San Diego high eleven's game. Instead of seeing the game because of fog which blanketed the field they had to be content with listening about the progress of the game through a loudspeaker.

Bill Andrews, former sheriff and who was yet playing ball after he passed the three score milestone told Honus Wagner several nights ago, when he pitched in Butler County, defeated Rube Waddell, not once but several times. "In those days" said Bill "they bet a barrel of money whenever Bill pitched." Maureen O'Connell, is not only a great golfer but also a good bowler. She plays with the New York Times Men's Bowling team and batted out a 218 game.

Nick George, who was in the army and served 11 months in Germany, is home. Altogether he was in service 18 months. He will help on publicity when the Sons of Italy hold a convention here in July. From now until the turf reads next spring golf will be talked of and not played, except in the warmer climates.

Polish Falcons Meeting Tonight
The Polish Falcon basketball team will have a meeting at the Falcon Hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight and every night this week. It was announced by Manager, Walter Maslik. All candidates for the team are asked to attend if at all possible.

IRONMEN LOSE AGAIN
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Ironmen lost their third consecutive cage bout in the Basketball Association of America last night to the Boston Celtics by a close 46-44 count.

Columbus Club Meets Tonight
There will be an important meeting of the Columbus Club basketball team at the Christopher Columbus Hall at 7 o'clock tonight, followed by a workout. It was announced by Coach Ernie Adamo.

JEFFERSON TIGERS WIN
The Jefferson Street Tigers football team defeated the All-Star Vultures Sunday, 7 to 0, ending their 1946 season with seven wins, one loss and three ties. The Jefferson Tigers are now turning to basketball for games call 3425 and ask for Figo.

Owing to confliotions last night the scheduled City Baseball league session at the Legion Home was postponed until tonight at 7:30 o'clock when playing fields for next year will be discussed.

Two high-scoring backs, Walter Kretz, Allentown, Long Island, N. Y., and Joseph Martin Camden, N. J., today were elected co-captains of the 1947 Cornell football team.

County Cagers Begin Pre-Loop Card This Week

Four Squads Open Fire Tonight; Ellwood, New Castle Begin Season Friday

With King Football shivering into oblivion on the sidelines, the curtain comes up on another great spectator sport tonight as the pass and dribble boys begin their hostilities.

Around the county four Section 21 quintets pry the lid off the 1946-47 season with the rest of the schools scheduled to open fire later in the week.

Ellwood City and New Castle, double A members of Section III, will commence their warm-up encounters Friday evening. The "Canes" will be at home against the Youngstown East passers, while the Wolverines entertain Stoneboro on the home hardwood.

Butler Hennon's defending champions of Section 21 will be hosts to Freedom this evening while three other class B schools swing into action. New Wilmington's Greyhounds make their debut under a new tutor, Bob Eagleson, on the home court against Stoneboro. Union's "Scotties" travel to East Palestine for a battle, while Princeton journeys to Slippery Rock for their inaugural.

Other Fives To Start
Friday will see the remainder of the schools unveil their combinations. East Brook will play Plaingrove on the latter's floor, Shenango will be at home against Freedom, while Bessemer opens at home against North Lima. O. Mt. Jackson will delay their first game until Saturday night when they trek to Poland, O., for a scrap.

Many New Coaches
There have been quite a few coaching changes in the county and this week will see new mentors in six of the schools. In Section 21 Bob Eagleson takes over the reins at New Wilmington, Clare Hetrick returns to East Brook and W. Anderson is the new face at Princeton high.

"Chuck" James guides the destinies of the Plaingrove five which competes in the North Butler County loop. Bill Douglas makes his start with the New Castle squad and "Ted" Wallace is the new head man at Ellwood City.

WILL MEET TONIGHT
Owing to confliotions last night the scheduled City Baseball league session at the Legion Home was postponed until tonight at 7:30 o'clock when playing fields for next year will be discussed.

Two high-scoring backs, Walter Kretz, Allentown, Long Island, N. Y., and Joseph Martin Camden, N. J., today were elected co-captains of the 1947 Cornell football team.

Stream Improvement Program Is Planned

HARRISBURG, Dec. 3.—(INS)—The State Fish commission was planning today to inaugurate a scientific study of Pennsylvania's waters next spring to improve fishing conditions.

Prof. Gordon L. Trembley, of State College, has been named chief aquatic biologist at $4,000 to direct the commission's stream and lake management program.

The program will require several years to complete, the commission reported. "Lakes and streams will be surveyed to determine their ability to sustain fish life and then will be maintained at the peak of their fish-bearing capacity of efficiency," the commission announced.

Equipment was being assembled for the program and the laboratory at the Bellefonte hatchery will be enlarged to carry out research work, it was added.

Levine-Sheppard Battle Tonight

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Artie Levine, hard-hitting New York middleweight, retained a 3 to 2 favorite with the odds likely to rise for his feature bout with Jimmy Sheppard of Providence tonight at the Cleveland Arena.

Their 10-round tussle will headline the Cleveland News 21st annual Christmas fund boxing show. The two fighters met in Providence last month and, although Artie floored Sheppard for a nine-count, the stocky New Englander pulled through with an upset decision.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Jackie Armitage, promising New Kensington, Pa., boxer, tonight will attempt to climb another rung in the welterweight ladder when he meets Freddie Archer of Newark, N. J., in one of two round features at the Gardens in Pittsburgh.

In the second bout of the co-feature, Gene Burton, classy New York puncher, will be matched against Bee Bee Wright of Clairton, Pa.

Archer was rated a 12.5 favorite over the less experienced but fast-developing Armitage. The Burton-Wright match was placed on even terms.

Eight of Allegheny college's 15 basketball foes this winter will represent out-of-state colleges.

Don Johnson As
Hurling 'Find'Believe Young Pitcher From Oregon Will Make Grade,
Also Vic Raschi

By CASWELL ADAMS
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Don Johnson, 19-year-old ex-soldier from Portland, Ore., is the likeliest pitching prospect on the roster of new comers to the ranks of the New York Yankees for 1947.

This is the considered belief of both Bucky Harris, new manager of the club, and the loquacious Larry MacPhail, president of the organization.

"There's no doubt that he is our top prospect at the moment," said Harris. "We have a raft of good boys coming up as pitchers and I believe that our pitching reinforcements are 'way ahead of the reinforcements in the other positions. But this Johnson kid is a good one."

Has Good Record

"In 1944, his first year in organized ball, when he was only 17 years old, he stayed in triple A ball. He won three and lost 11 for Kansas City and then won six and lost 17 in the same year for Newark in the International. That's not too hot a record, but he's a big strong boy and pitched a lot when he was in the army last summer and he is being counted on heavily by us."

"Other pitchers who will help us, I think, will be Rinald Ardia, who had a 14 and seven count with Oakland, and Gene Bearden, who went 15-4 for the same club, and Frank Shea, who won 15 and lost five, also for Oakland. Then there's Carl DeRose, who had a 12 and six mark for Kansas City, a seventh place club."

Raschi Looks Good

"Then we'll have Vic Raschi, who won ten and dropped ten for Birmingham and then won two for the Yankees at the end of the season, and Dick Starr, who had an 18-10 record with Augusta, not to mention Allie Reynolds, who won 11 and lost 15 with the Cleveland Indians."

That Larry MacPhail evidently and finally believes that the arduous training trip of last spring wrought disaster on the Yankees in the regular campaign, is shown in his extremely modified training schedule for the coming spring. The regulars will have preliminary work in Puerto Rico, with several games there and in Venezuela and at either Santo Domingo or Havana.

Then to the main base at St. Petersburg, where 14 games will be played and seven in nearby Florida towns. The trip home will merely include a stop at Atlanta, one at Baltimore and then the annual three-day series with the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets field before the season opens.

This schedule certainly won't be blamable if the Yankees stumble again.

FAIR OR FOUL

LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—A former football player in the far west, who has maintained his interest in gridiron activities out there, was asked today to explain what goes on when a place like University of California can't control the game.

Perhaps you read where a demand has been made that Coach Frank Wickhorst be fired and members of the football team be paid $75 a month on top of room and board.

Coming from some schools, this hollering would occasion surprise only because the wage scale was not already above that $75. But you thought California was a little different and wouldn't ever have these sordid financial problems.

Highly Ranked
The fellow I was talking to, who now is a professional football player, said yes the University of California ranked with the very best schools in academic standing and being a state school could not pay football players.

He said students needed the full set of credits to get into the school and that the required average must be maintained for them to stay there. They couldn't take a snap course and slide through for three or four years of football and never be graduated.

These latter things prevail at many higher institutions of learning elsewhere around the country.

Must Study
"Nothing like that goes on at California," the fellow I was talking to said.

"You must keep up with your studies there. While I went to school elsewhere, I took some post-graduate work at California and I know all about it."

"I can't understand this agitation against Coach Wickhorst. He is a great guy and a nice fellow—except that I guess the Alumni Association is on him. This is a tough problem at California—the Alumni Association. As soon as the team loses a game they start screaming."

"They figure that because California has a tremendous enrollment the football team should be unbeatable. They refuse to remember that the academic requirements have been made so strict that the school actually is getting mostly students."

Simple Deduction
"In football, you get football players or you don't win. That's all there is to it. And that is simple California has so many applications from students every year that the school simply kept raising the standards until now the place is over-run with students and football is secondary.

"So the coach gets it in the neck and the players want $75 a month besides room and board so that some other good players will come to the school and help build up the team."

City Officials To Name Coal Board

"I propose to confer today with members of council following which we will appoint a coal board to see that everybody here has some coal," Mayor John F. Haven stated today.

"The coal situation is acute and city officials want everybody to be as warm as possible," he added.

CORONER RULES DEATH SUICIDE
GREENVILLE, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—A verdict of suicide by shooting was returned today by Coroner Joseph Doyle in the death of Francis Wright, 48, whose body was found Sunday in Packard Park.

Wright, the coroner's office said, left a note to his daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Barber, telling her where she would find his body.

Wright was born in New Castle but spent most of his life in Greenville.

HARRISBURG — Governor-Elect James H. Duff's fondness for lemon meringue pie prompted Mrs. Mary Bless, state cafeteria manager, to feature it on the menu as "Duff's pie."

Hostesses for the evening, at the close of the program were mesdames: Joseph Moresky, L. Zieve, T. L. Alpern, M. Slovon, H. Solomon, H. Pitnoff, A. Shapiro and A. Levi.

Alec Samuels was chairman, and aiding were co-chairman, Gus Slovinsky, Nathan Land and Al Goldman.

Board Demands
Striking Teachers
Return To Posts

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Dec. 3.—(INS)—Striking coal township teachers were told today by the school board that negotiations for higher wages would not begin until the 90 instructors returned to their posts.

Anthony Grabowski, secretary, asserted that "under no circumstances" would directors negotiate demands for salary boosts until the teachers resumed work.

As the walkout entered its second day, the board pointed to state laws mandating salary levels.

Synthetic resins and other plastic substances are expected to have a revolutionary effect upon the paint industry as soon as sufficient raw materials are available for full-scale production. Brighter colors, longer wear, and easier application are promised for paints, enamels, and lacquers.

Says U. S. Returns To Old System

Gen. Donovan Says Nation
Reverts To Policy Of Waiting For "Stab
In Back"

DETROIT, Dec. 3.—(INS)—Gen. William "Wild Bill" Donovan, America's number one spy of World War II—charged Monday that the United States has reverted to its old policy of waiting for a "stab in the back."

General Donovan told the Detroit Economic club that the nation has abandoned the office of strategic service and "returned to the system that failed to warn us of impending disaster at Pearl Harbor."

The O. S. S., which Gen. Donovan headed, has been credited with being a major factor in the winning of the war, through its success as an intelligence unit.

Donovan said that he is not forecasting another "stab in the back" nor does he believe that another war is inevitable, but warned that the nation is "not remaining alert and alert."

In again depending upon the army, navy and state departments for intelligence reports, Donovan said the United States has returned to the system in operation prior to Pearl Harbor—a system that he claims became antiquated when the O. S. S. was created.

General Donovan charged that the army, navy and state department "decipher information on a preconceived basis, finding in their reports only what they want to find."

"They had plenty of warning in advance of Pearl Harbor," Donovan continued, "but they chose not to read the truth."

The fiery New Yorker said that the nation can keep alert without the entanglements of army and navy politics through utilization of an independent intelligence office reporting directly to the president. He commented in these days when new weapons have annihilated space, there is a greater premium on intelligence than ever before in history. The general warned that the United States is constantly faced by the element of surprise, but said that he does not believe there is danger from "Russia or any other nation as long as the United States remains alert."

RIDDLED SKULL BAFFLES POLICE

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 3.—(INS)—An eerie mystery baffled South Jersey police today following the discovery of a bullet-punctured human skull loftily perched on a tree limb of a dense wooded area near Lindenwold borough.

The finding has precipitated a search of the area by police in an effort to turn up a skeleton which might lead to the identification of what state police indicated may have been a murder victim.

80-Year-Old Lady's Rheumatic Pains Go! She Praises Rhu-Aid

Recently an 80-year-old lady living near here stated that she almost suffered death with rheumatic pains in her whole right side. When she tried to walk she would simply flinch with agony and says she had become just a "bundle of nerves" due to her long period of suffering. She bought all kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to work on her until she got Rhu-Aid. She states she was amazed at the results when she got this medicine. Now the rheumatic pains have gone from her entire right side. She can walk without suffering for the first time in years and says her nerves are "strong as steel." She feels like a new woman.

Rhu-Aid is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get Rhu-Aid. Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.
